2 in Death Case Try to Escape

VANCOUVER (CP)—Arthur Rennie, 18, charged with the murder last April of Woo Dack, Chinese cafe operator, and Harry McMillan, convicted of manslaughter as a result of Dack's death, made an unsuccessful break for freedom today.

As the two stepped from a British Columbia Police patrol wagon outside the Court House they started a dash down the street. They were overtaken by Constables G. R. Dillworth and C. E. Evans. Rennie's trial began yesterday before an Assize Court jury.

Black 1 Up at 18th

VANCOUVER (CP) — Ken Black, Canadian amateur golf champion of Vancouver, took a one-up lead over Bud Ward of Spokane, Wash., United States amateur champion, at the end of the first 18 holes in their 36-hole exhibition match at Point Grey Golf Club here today. Black had 73, two over par, for the 18 holes and Ward had 74.

RUSSIA PLAYING GERMANY'S GAME

By PIERRE MAILLAUD

LONDON (Havas News Agency)—Evidence that Russia is temporarily playing Germany's diplomatic game in working to ease the way for German penetration of the Balkans provoked collapse of Russo-Turkish negotiations.

Foreign Minister Sukru Saracoglu of Turkey, who today left for Ankara after a three-week stay in Moscow, kept British and French diplomats at the Soviet capital informed on the progress of his talks with Soviet officials.

Authoritative quarters here and in Paris said signatures would be affixed to the British-French mutual assistance treaty before the end of this week.

British diplomats are convinced that Moscow's policy has undergone a definite change within the last week and is now directed, at least for the time being, either toward furthering German interests in the Balkans or toward weakening the western powers' hold in that region to Russia's exclusive profit.

Canada Bans 'Look'

OTTAWA (CP) — The semi-monthly picture magazine Look, published in Des Moines, Iowa, has been banned from Canada under the provisions of the customs tariff, the national revenue department said today.

The department gave no explanation of the order listing the magazine as a prohibited publication.

Much Reconnoitring

PARIS (CP-Havas)—This evening's communique said:

"The general front was unchanged. There was great activity by reconnaissance elements."

Quebec Nominations, Candidates Swarm

QUEBEC (CP)—Closing of nominations today for the Quebec elections next Wednesday left some Montreal Island constituencies with a flood of candidates.

Mayor Camillien Houde of Montreal, running as an Independent, is one of six candidates in Montreal-St. Mary. There are six candidates also in Montreal-St. Henry.

Five candidates are contesting Montreal-Notre Dame de Grace where W. R. Bulloch, elected in Westmount in 1936 as a Union Nationale member, is running as a Conservative. Among the four others opposing him is M. H. Clarke, who contended, according to a member of the returning officer's staff, he was the "true Conservative" because Bulloch was not a resident of the riding.

Premier Duplessis will be opposed in Three Rivers by Mayor Atchez Pitt of Three Rivers, a Liberal. Liberal Leader Adelard Godbout will contest L'Islet riding with Hon. Joseph Bilodeau, Minister of Municipal Affairs, Trade and Commerce, and Philias Ouelett of the Acton Liberal Nitionale.

Paul Gouin, A.L.N. leader, is running in Montreal-Mercier against three other candidates, J. Francoeur, Liberal; Gerard Thibeault, Union Nationale, and A. Vermette, Independent, U.N.

JAPAN WINS AGAIN

AMOY, China (AP) — A five-month crisis in relations between the Japanese and British, French and Americans in Kulangsu, Amoy's international settlement, has been ended with the withdrawal of United States and Japanese naval landing parties.

The crisis was precipitated May 10 when Japanese bluejackets were sent ashore to back up a Japanese demand to control the administration of the international settlement following the killing of a Chinese member of the Japanese-sponsored Amoy government.

Today the Japanese authorities and the Kulangsu municipal council reached an agreement providing for council co-operation with Japanese consular officials on suppression of anti-Japanism and for an increase in Japanese representation in the settlement police force.

German Planes Seen Near Scapa Flow

LONDON (CP) — German planes, apparently on a scouting mission, approached Britain's great naval base at Scapa Flow today, but did not drop any bombs, the Air Ministry announced this evening.

The Ministry said the planes came from the direction of Kirkwall and Duncansbay Head. (The former is one of the Orkney Islands north of Scapa Flow; the latter place is on the Scottish coast to the south.)

Sugar Price Dropping

SEATTLE (AP) — Wholesale sugar prices dropped another 25 cents per 100 pounds here today, the second such slash since the war scare sent prices above the $6 mark six weeks ago. The new prices range from $5.78 to $5.89.

U-boat Chief Tells How He Sank Royal Oak

By LOUIS P. LOCHNER

BERLIN (AP)—A 31-year-old Nazi submarine commander, Guenther Prien, today declared that "except for a lone auto driver, nobody saw our U-boat enter or leave Scapa Flow" in the raid which sank the British battleship Royal Oak last Saturday and cost 810 lives.

Commander Prien talked with foreign newspapermen after he had been decorated by Adolf Hitler and received the plaudits of cheering Berlin crowds on the way to the Chancellery with his submarine crew.

From a band around his neck Prien proudly wore the highest order of the iron cross. With him were 37 other officers and men from the submarine which landed yesterday. Each of the young men, all round 20 years old, wore simple iron crosses pinned to their sailor blouses.

Prien asserted he had entered Scapa Flow, Britain's naval base in the Orkney Islands off northern Scotland, on a night when the northern lights were the strongest he had seen in 15 years at sea.

LIGHTS AT BUOYS

"The British ships could not be seen distinctly, but we could determine the location by dimmed lanterns at the anchoring buoys," he said.

Prien reiterated the German claim that his submarine badly damaged Britain's 32,000-ton battlecruiser Repulse at the same time as it sank the Royal Oak.

(The British Admiralty declared the claim was an "absurd invention".)

"The Repulse was easy to make out because it and the Renown (her sister ship) alone have two funnels," Prien said.

"The Repulse was partly covered by the Royal Oak. Nevertheless her two aforeship gun towers protruded.

"So I first aimed in their direction, then sent a second torpedo into the very heart of the Royal Oak. I saw distinctly how water first spurted high before the Repulse and then was followed by high red flames.

FRAGMENTS IN AIR

"On the Royal Oak water and fire rose even higher, both hits being followed by detonations and by parts of the costly ships hurtling into the air.

"The whole thing was over in 30 seconds. After that only a dark cloud of smoke was visible. The Royal Oak had disappeared, while the Repulse listed heavily forward.

(The official British accounts said 20 minutes elapsed between the first and second torpedoes.)

"Immediately thereafter the British got busy with searchlights and their destroyers loosed water bombs.

"Only one man in a car apparently had seen us. He turned abruptly and drove off at full speed and evidently reported us. We could see him so well because we navigated quite close to the shore."

ENGLISH MAIL HERE

English mail arrivals in Victoria yesterday and today amounting to 324 bags has brought the mail nearly up to date, according to word from the Post Office this morning.

The mail has been delayed due to the outbreak of war. The last large English mail received here was nearly four weeks ago.

Postmaster George Gardiner said that no mails had been lost despite the sinking of a number of ships in the war area. There was no mail from England for Canada on the Athenia when she was sunk.

Former Airmen Asked to Report

Former tradesmen members of the Canadian flying services may be called upon to take part in Canada's new plan of training a big Empire air force for overseas.

This was indicated today in a notice from Ottawa asking all tradesmen formerly enlisted with the Royal Naval Air Service, the Royal Flying Corps, the Royal Air Force and the Royal Canadian Air Force to report either to Ottawa or the nearest branch of the Employment Service of Canada.

Norse Kings Urged To Widen Talks To Bring Peace

STOCKHOLM (AP) — The kings of the three Scandanavian states and the President of Finland opened their conference today on problems which face the northern neutral countries as the result of the new war.

The visiting heads of state, King Haakon of Norway, King Christian of Denmark and President Kyoesti Kallio of Finland, were welcomed in brief ceremonies devoid of military display in harmony with the peace policy long associated with the Scandinavian nations.

King Gustaf, Sweden's 83-year-old monarch, at whose instance the conference was called, presided at the meeting, which was attended by the foreign ministers of the four states.

TRADE APPEAL

An appeal to the northern states and their ministers to widen the scope of the conference and make it a starting point for a general European peace move was published in Stockholm afternoon papers. It was in the form of a full-page advertisement signed by "representatives of Swedish industry and trade."

"We appeal to the heads of the four states and their ministers to broaden the demonstration of the northern countries' desire for peace and to discuss all possibilities of bringing about negotiations which might result in averting world disaster," the appeal stated.

How to preserve the neutrality of their nations while maintaining normal trade relations was the question facing the monarchs

To that problem was added the situation of Finland, now engaged in negotiations with Soviet Russia which the Finns fear may threaten their independence.

Meeting Switched

The Institute of Pacific Relations, which was to hold a conference at Victoria next month, has changed the meeting place to Virginia Beach, Va., it was learned today. The meeting will start November 22 and continue for 10 days.

SALLY IN COURT AGAIN—Sally Rand, famous instigator of the nude ranch on San Francisco's Treasure Island, and owner of a well-known pair of fans, is broke. In a financial statement included with her petition for bankruptcy, Helen Gould Beck (Sally's real name) listed her debts at $64,631 and her assets at only $8,067. Though the nude ranch is still operating, she does not own it, gets only a small percentage of the earnings. Sally's bank account is as nude as her dancers.

Beaverbrook Visit Attacked in Senate

WASHINGTON (CP)—Senator Rush Holt, anti-new deal Democrat from West Virginia, charged in the Senate today that Lord Beaverbrook visited Washington last week for the purpose of propaganda aimed at drawing the United States into the war.

Beaverbrook lunched with President Roosevelt last Friday and it was stated afterward they talked about the President's summer home at Campobello, N.B., and that the fact the English publisher was raised in that Canadian province.

Turkish-Soviet Pact Possibilities Dim As Talks End

ISTANBUL (AP) — Gen. Maxime Weygand, 72-year-old commander-in-chief of French forces in the eastern Mediterranean, accompanied by several military experts, arrived today as precautionary military measures were intensified in Turkey.

This followed on Premier Refik Saydam's assertion Russian demands made to a Turkish delegation in Moscow were contrary to Turkish policy in the Dardanelles.

Numerous large motor vehicles, particularly heavy duty trucks, were being requisitioned. Chauffeurs and mechanics who do not belong to any army reserve units were urged to join motorized units.

Reporting to a parliamentary group of the Republican People's Party, Saydam declared at Ankara that three weeks of discussion in Moscow had proved fruitless.

The Premier said Russian proposals were contrary to Turkish security, failed to compensate her for obligations she was asked to assume and were incompatible with Turkey's previous commitments to Great Britain and France.

He added, however, that despite the breakdown of negotiations, relations between Turkey and Russia remained friendly.

READY TO SIGN

Meanwhile it was reported that formal signing of a Turkish pact with Britain might be expected this week—possibly Thursday or Friday (following the return to Ankara of Foreign Minister Sukru Saracoglu, now en route from Moscow, where his negotiations with Sovet leaders ended in an impasse).

The agreement would bind Turkey and Britain to fight together in event of war in the Mediterranean.

There is a similar agreement with France, whereby Turkey obtained the 10,000-square miles area of the Hatay Republic, formerly a part of France's Syrian mandate. That pact was signed June 23.

A Turkish military mission has been in London awaiting the outcome of the Moscow talks.

Britain Winning Propaganda War, Chamberlain Says

LONDON (CP)—Prime Minister Chamberlain told the House of Commons today that Britain was winning over Germany in the propaganda battle over war issues.

In his weekly report on war developments, the Prime Minister declared Germany had lost eight warplanes in raids on the British coasts in the last two days while Britain had suffered no air losses. Several other German bombers had failed to reach home airdromes, it was believed.

The number of German aircraft taking part in the raids did not exceed 30. "The casualties which we have inflicted on the enemy have thus certainly exceeded 25 per cent of the attacking force, and may have been higher," Mr. Chamberlain said.

"We may indeed be encouraged by the knowledge our defences have proved so successful in these first tests of their strength and that our fighter aircraft have been shown to possess the excellent quality for which we had hoped.

"In these early days we must not, of course, indulge in foolish boasts. The attacks so far made on our coasts have been few and on a small scale, and it would be unwise to assume we shall always be as successful as we have been in these first exchanges. There are many surprises in war and they cannot all be pleasant. But we have at least the satisfaction of knowing we have made a good beginning."

NO NEW PEACE BID

The Prime Minister said that since his last rejection of German peace proposals as too vague, "there has been no indication from Berlin of the views of the German government upon the issues" and continued:

"German propaganda organs have used all possible ingenuity so as to twist foreign comment as to make it somewhat less unfavorable to their own points of view.

"I should doubt whether this effort has had any success outside Germany itself, for it is difficult to conceal the fact that the vast bulk of comment of nearly all shades of political color in neutral countries has shown a full appreciation of the attitude of the Allied governments."

The Prime Minister spoke of "fantastic" claims by Germany of successful attacks on British war vessels and declared:

"It is not true that the Hood or the Repulse or any other capital ship had suffered the least damage. The same is true of the Ark Royal."

The Hood and Repulse are battlecruisers and the Ark Royal is an aircraft carrier.

He said a heavy toll of German submarines had been taken since the war began and pointed out that losses of British ships entering and leaving port during the week ended yesterday represented only about one half of 1 per cent of the total sailing.

On the western front he said the British expeditionary force "has now finally taken over their allotted sector of the French line and all divisions are in position."

COMPLETE UNITY

"The understanding between the French and British higher command is complete," Mr. Chamberlain said. "The fact that our expeditionary force is under the command of the French commander-in-chief and that unity of command has thus been achieved at so early a stage of the war is one proof of this accord.

"Another is to be found in an agreement by which French troops are serving under the orders of the British commander-in-chief in France" (Viscount Gort).

There was no unity of command in the early days of the first Great War, each army operating under its own government. This led to confusion and lack of proper co-ordination and eventually resulted in the appointment of Foch as supreme allied commander. Britain and France are not repeating that mistake.

PEOPLE GIVEN TRUTH

"The people of this country," said Mr. Chamberlain, "are resolute enough to bear bad news and the government have not hesitated to publish the full extent of any losses they have sustained. Those imaginary losses which German broadcasts have described with such unblushing impudence may serve for a time to raise their spirits, but in the end their falsity will be demonstrated and the consequent disappointment will be only the more depressing.

"We on our side have no intention of claiming successes of which we are not convinced. It is far more important that the world should believe implicitly in the communiques we issue than that we should reap the harvest of short-lived advantages which distortions of the truth may bring."

QUESTIONS BY ATTLEE

Clement Attlee, leader of the Opposition, said the House "ought to have an explanation" of why the German air raid Monday apparently was unknown until the planes were over Rosyth, Scotland. He said this impression tended to a lack of confidence in air raid warnings.

Mr. Attlee also expressed dissatisfaction with the country's organization for war and said there should be a full-time economics minister in the war service.

B.C. Prosecutes Union Officers

The British Columbia government accepted today what it considers a direct challenge to the Industrial Conciliation and Arbitration Act passed in 1937 by launching prosecutions against officers of the International Union of Mine, Mill and Smelter Workers, Local 308, for striking at Pioneer Mine.

The officers facing prosecution are: W. J. Cameron, president; Charles A. Haddrell, vice-president, and W. A. Patterson, secretary, the Attorney-General's department said.

Commenting on the decision the Premier declared:

"I regret that the union has taken the stand which it has. The Industrial Conciliation and Arbitration Act was placed upon the statute books for the benefit of industrial workers and industry alike, and for the purpose of promoting industrial peace. A strike is the very last weapon that should be resorted to—under it everybody loses."

"The Department of Labor of this province is available at all times to assist employers and employees in peaceful settlement of their differences. The law in this regard must be obeyed and we shall see that it is.

"I would like to make a special appeal to all the people of our province at this time. The Empire is in a death struggle, not merely to preserve the freedom of ourselves but the freedom and liberty of many other peoples in the world now living in constant fear and dread. It is the duty of all our citizens to make every effort to keep the wheels of industry in motion."

The case was seen here as having far-reaching importance because it will determine the strength of the provincial law which bans strikes until a fixed procedure of conciliation and arbitration has been followed.

ARMY BANS FANCY DRESS DURING WAR

OTTAWA (CP) — Fancy dress has been banned from the Canadian army for the duration of the war. Under a new order it is directed that full dress, undress and mess dress will not be worn by officers on any occasion.

So the scarlet mess-jackets, the neat blue undress uniforms and colorful dress uniforms worn on ceremonial parades may be put in moth balls. The khaki service dress or the new battle dress will be worn at all times, except that officers on leave may wear civilian clothes, and all ranks at their stations may wear civilian clothes for athletic exercises.

The wearing of orders, decorations and medals also will cease, but the ribands of orders, decorations and medals may be worn on the service dress and the battle dress.

Why Do Our Women Hesitate to Register?

To the Editor:—Watching the few women who have come in to register at the various depots of the Voluntary Registration Scheme, I have been struck with the fact that practically none of the younger women and girls of Victoria are responding.

The women who worked and lived through the last war, the women who remember that tragic time, and who know how valuable the women's work was, are the ones who are coming forward now. They are not saying, "I can't do this" or "I can't do that," but are saying grimly, "I can do that." There may be misconception about the necessity of being a trained worker. But experience has proved a few months of the humble experiences in a military hospital turns a very green V.A.D. into a first class nurse. A few weeks of ambulance driving fortifies the body, soul and nerves.

But this registration does not imply only such services. The woman who can give a few hours work to help in a flu epidemic or could go into a sick household and help with a few hours cooking, or the one who could drive or lend her car for those smaller emergencies is just as valuable, and we want to know about her.

From my own experience in France in the last war I know that women can do everything they want to do.

Though this is a voluntary registration, that does not mean it is only for voluntary workers. There are many, the majority, who must receive paid work. The files, if properly completed, will cover all work: shell-making, uniform-making, replacement of men in shops, factories and farms.

In Ontario the women rushed the registration bureaus. Will the women and girls of British Columbia show less imagination and fall behind them in responding?

Minister Tells Of Canada's War Effort

OTTAWA (CP) — The Canadian people entered the war against Nazi Germany because they wished to save for themselves, their children and for other countries the benefit of self-government, Hon. Norman Rogers, defence minister, said in the opening address of a series of weekly radio talks on Canada's war effort.

The address was delievered by a "spokesman" for the Department of National Defence and broadcast last night over the national network of the Canadian Broadcasting Corporation. The name of the spokesman was not given, but he is an officer in the department.

Whether the war lasts months or years, Mr. Rogers was sure the faith in the final outcome would sustain the Canadian people.

Despite Canada's favorable geographic position, there was a definite problem of local defence, said the departmental spokesman. Aircraft had already flown twice the width of the Atlantic nonstop and Canadians could not overlook the report that an enemy warship equipped with aircraft was on the high seas.

"Anti-submarine nets and defences against motor torpedo boats had been or are being installed at harbor entrances in order to ensure the safety of vessels in the ports. To allow the passage of friendly ships through these nets and booms the services of a special gate-vessel are required.

"The navy is also carrying out special duties in connection with convoys. . . . .

"It is no secret that convoys are from time to time leaving Canadian shores for the Old Country and that the duty of escorting them devolves in part on the Canadian naval services which are working in the closest co-operation with units of the Royal Navy."

Naval forces had been increased. The Royal Canadian Naval Volunteer Reserve had been called up and additional vessels had been obtained.

The Air Force performed similar tasks to the navy in coastal defence, but carried its reconnaissances far out to sea, thereby obtaining information of value about the presence or absence of enemy forces.

PLANES EQUIPPED

Canadian reconnaissance and bombing aircraft were equipped for attacking enemy submarines as the British aircraft had successfully attacked them in British waters. The air force also participated in the escort of convoys leaving and arriving in Canada.

Raid Warnings In North France

PARIS (AP)—A 40-minute air raid warning sounded this morning in Lille, industrial city of northeastern France.

Warning sirens screamed at 11.45 a.m. (2.45 a.m. P.S.T.) and the all clear signal followed at 12.25. Details were not announced.

A similar alarm was sounded at noon in Amiens, in the same general region as Lille. The "end alert" signal was sounded half an hour later.

Germans Mass At Middle of Line

By CHARLES S. FOLTZ JR.

BASEL, Switzerland (AP)—Rear areas on both sides of the front seethed with activity today in the wake of German thrusts which Swiss observers believed were intended to divert attention from preparations for a bigger push.

These observers said the offensive, when it comes, probably will be directed against the Wissembourg-Lauterbourg-Rhine triangle near the middle of the German-French frontier.

For the third successive day and night, it was reported, the Germans continued to concentrate troops and offensive materials at Karlsruhe and other points in the strategic Lauterbourg sector.

The concentration movement was said to have been in no way affected by assaults which the Germans have been making on northeastern end of the front, near the Moselle River and east of the Saar.

The French, dispatches indicated, have been matching the German concentration with their own reinforcements.

Soviet Gold to Reich

LONDON (CP)—A government spokesman today gave official support to reports Russia has been sending gold to Germany.

Sir Alfred Knox, Conservative, asked in the House of Commons whether the government's attention had been drawn "to the fact that a consignment, said to be a first consignment of 17½ tons of gold, had been transferred by the Soviet government to Germany."

Foreign Affairs Undersecretary R. A. Butler replied:

"Yes, sir, the Foreign Secretary has reason to believe that this report is not without foundation."

The British press has printed repeated reports Germany was receiving Russian gold under a deal by which she ordered withdrawal of Germans from the Baltic States.

(The 17½ tons of gold mentioned in the Commons would be worth about $15,923,040 at the Bank of England's price of 168 shillings—$33.85—an ounce.)

3 MORE ALLIED SHIPS SENT DOWN

NEW YORK (AP)—The United States maritime commission said today 300 survivors had been rescued by the American liner Independence Hall from two British ships, the 10,813-ton passenger liner Yorkshire and the 3,509-ton freighter City of Mandalay, sunk about 500 miles from the coast of France.

In London, operators of the City of Mandalay said they had information the ship had been attacked and sunk.

The Yorkshire, which traveled between India and Liverpool, was posted to leave Rangoon September 7, according to its latest available schedule.

The master of the rescue vessel, Captain C. J. McKenzie, radioed he was taking the survivors back to Bordeaux, France, scheduled to arrive there tomorrow morning.

Forty three survivors of the crew of the 5,186-ton French ship Vermont were landed yesterday at a south England port by a British warship which rescued them in the Atlantic.

Two seamen were lost in the sinking of the vessel and four of the survivors were injured. The survivors said a submarine sank their ship.

McLarty Denies Conscription Plan

OTTAWA (CP)—Hon. Norman McLarty, Minister of Labor, made public last night a statement taking issue with Premier Maurice Duplessis of Quebec, who, Mr. McLarty said, suggested a letter written by Mr. McLarty was proof the federal government "was secretly preparing for conscription."

Concluding his statement Mr. McLarty said: "I am sure that the good people of the old province of Quebec will see clearly through Mr. Duplessis' efforts to obtain votes by beclouding issues and to obtain prestige by besmirching the government of Canada."

Mr. McLarty's statement said in part:

"My attention has been drawn to a statement which Mr. Duplessis made Sunday afternoon, the 15th instant, at St. Damase de L'Islet, in the course of which he commented on a letter that I had addressed on October 12 to the Honorable J. S. Bourque, Minister of Lands and Forests at Quebec.

"Mr. Duplessis suggested that this letter was proof that the government was secretly preparing for conscription.

"I unhesitatingly state that Mr. Duplessis' interpretation of the letter is entirely false and completely incorrect.

"The letter that I addressed to Mr. Bourque was to inform him that the federal government was ready to continue during the winter months on a necessarily contracted basis its program designed to encourage young men who desired to take up forestry work. I explained in my letter that the one desirable object of the work was to build up the health of young men who, in their attempt to enlist, had learned that they were not in good physical condition.

"Needless to say, following the declaration of war, many young men have willingly offered themselves for military service. Some of these young men have been rejected for the reason that they were not in good physical condition. An opportunity is now being given these young men to enter the forestry project to build up their physical condition so that they may be fit for either industrial employment, or, if they so desire, to again enlist. There was not and is not the slightest suggestion of any compulsion."

Capt. A. E. Godfrey Heads R.C.A.F. Here

A change in the command of the Western Air Command of the Royal Canadian Air Force, involving the transfer of Group Captain G. O. Johnson from Vancouver to a post at National Defence Headquarters, Ottawa, was announced yesterday in Ottawa.

Group Captain A. E. Godfrey, a Vancouver man, has been appointed temporarily to the command of the Western Air Command, at present at Vancouver, but to remove here in the near future.

Captain Godfrey formerly commanded Rockliffe air station at Ottawa. He is now in Ottawa, having returned from England recently after completing a course at the Imperial Defence College.

Australia Ceases To Import Lumber

SAN FRANCISCO—Australia will try to get along without importing lumber during the war, according to information received by the Bureau of Foreign and Domestic Commerce.

Australia will make native timber suffice, because ship space has become scarce and must be used for other traffic, the Australian Minister of Supply said.

Canada has been supplying most of the Douglas fir and hemlock imported by Australia, with Washington and Oregon helping out.

Halting of Australian lumber imports will mean loss to British Columbia of a timber market that has taken over 10,000,000 board feet per month.

Letters to the Editor

RED TRIANGLE WORK

To the Editor:—This is to inform your readers of the formation of a special committee, to be known as the "Red Triangle Committee," with the object of providing pleasure and recreation for the men of the army and navy services stationed in and around Victoria and to ask their assistance.

The committee has already begun to act as a clearing house for literature, presented by residents and sent on to the various units in barracks and isolated posts. We shall appreciate gifts of books and fairly recent magazines, sets of playing cards, chess, checkers, and other games suitable for adults, and ask that these be delivered to the Y.M.C.A. building. It is hoped to organize a collection service for those who have things to send, but not the facilities for delivery. As, however, the work is purely voluntary it will be realized that we cannot well undertake to call for these at any specified time.

In this connection, there may be some people making regular deliveries in the city and surroundings who will volunteer to collect articles from houses situated on their routes. If there are those who will kindly co-operate in this regard we shall appreciate their letting us have their names and telephone numbers, so that we can get in touch with them when necessary. A letter addressed to the undersigned in care of the Y.M.C.A. will be welcomed.

The committee is also planning to provide concerts, short plays, and other entertainment at the various barracks. If there are any organizations who can provide concert parties, playlets, or other entertainment, and whose members would be willing to give their talents for this purpose, we shall be glad to hear from them, and arrange a meeting to settle details.

Here again we would like to hear from those having cars who would be willing to convey these performers to and from the barracks, or to lend their cars for their transportation from time to time, if required. Please notify the undersigned.

P. E. NICOLLE.
Secretary, care of Y.M.C.A., 1203 Blanshard Street.

Odlum May Head CBC Governors

OTTAWA — Brig.-Gen. Victor W. Odlum, Vancouver, and N. L. Nathanson, Toronto, a leader of Canada's motion picture business, were mentioned today in official discussions as to who will be chosen to succeed L. W. Brockington, K.C., as board chairman of the Canadian Broadcasting Corporation. Both are board members and it is expected here the appointment will be made from the board membership by October 31, when Mr. Brockington's three-year term will expire.

The chairman receives an honorarium of $1,500 a year. Board members receive no salaries.

Prime Minister King last night released an exchange of correspondence in which Mr. Brockington expressed appreciation of the Prime Minister's support of the principles which the CBC board of governors sought to enforce and the Prime Minister expressed his gratitude from Mr. Brockington's "devoted service" to the Corporation in its formative years, and the concern shown by the board under his leadership for the public domain and development of appreciation of many aspects of national life.

BOARD REAPPOINTMENTS

Other members of the CBC board of governors are: Rene Morin of Montreal, vice-chairman; Brig.-Gen. Victor Odlum of Vancouver; J. Wilfred Godrey of Halifax; Adrien Pouliot of Quebec; N. L. Nathanson of Toronto; Canon W. E. Fuller of Campbellton, N.B.; Alan Plaunt of Ottawa and Mrs. Nellie McClung of Victoria.

The terms of Mrs. McClung and Mr. Morin also will expire at the end of October, those two being the third panel of governors. Each year one panel comes up for re-appointment on a three-year basis. It is expected the present governors will be continued if they agree.

IN CANADA SINCE 1912

Born in Cardiff, Wales, in 1888, Mr. Brockington came to Canada in 1912 after graduating from the University of Wales and teaching in England. He was called to the bar in Saskatchewan in 1919.

He entered newspaper work in Edmonton, worked there as a civil servant and then went to Calgary, where he studied law while a clerk in the land titles office. He was called to the Bar in 1919 and two years later was named assistant city solicitor for Calgary, becoming solicitor a year later and retaining the position for 14 years.

An authority on the drama and music, Mr. Brockington first came into the public eye as a festival critic in Alberta many years ago. He conducted one symphony orchestra and aided in the development of others.

Skilled Mechanics Wanted By R.C.A.F.

The men required include instructors, riggers, armorers, electrical engineers, engine mechanics, tailor and fabric workers, wireless repairmen and photographers.

LABOR MAN WANTS WAR AIMS STATED

VANCOUVER (CP)—Pressure should be brought to bear on the Canadian and British Governments to declare their war aims, in the opinion of Charles Stewart of the Street Railwaymen's Union, one of the Vancouver Trades and Labor Council's three delegates to the recent annual convention of the Trades and Labor Congress of Canada at London, Ont.

Stewart told the council last night that although the congress had endorsed a resolution pledging its "unwavering support" to the Allied cause, he did not believe this represented the aspirations of Canadian workers as a whole.

"Many of the delegates present hate Fascism in all its forms, and it is true that the war today is one for the destruction of Fascism," he said. "But the congress resolution does not state how we are to protect civil liberties which have been won over the centuries."

With reference to the convention's decision to expel Congress of Industrial Organizations affiliates from the Congress, Stewart charged there had been "a great deal of intimidation" to secure the vote of 235 to 96 favoring such action.

Percy Bengough, council secretary and also a delegate to the London congress, remarked that while not all members of the Vancouver body would endorse Stewart's views, Canada was a free country. "Let us be glad that we have that freedom to express our views," he said.

Secretary Bengough said the C.I.O. suspension had not been carried out at the request of the American Federation of Labor executive, as was sometimes represented, but in compliance with the wishes of the federations' affiliated organizations, "which comprise the majority of our membership."

MISSION PIONEER DIES

MISSION (CP)—Funeral services were held yesterday for William Plummer Mandale, 87, one of the oldest residents of this Fraser Valley district. His death Saturday was the first in his immediate family for more than 50 years. Mandale was born in Harrington, Cumberland, Eng, and came to Mission 29 years ago. He and his wife celebrated their diamond wedding anniversary in June last year.

Turkey Not Cajoled

TURKEY AND SOVIET RUSSIA HAVE failed to reach any new agreement because the Moscow government presented demands to Foreign Minister Sukru Saracoglu that were incompatible with the Turkish policy regarding the Dardanelles, that conflicted with Turkey's engagements which the Soviet government knew had been assumed toward Great Britain and France, were contrary to Turkish security, while the guarantees offered did not compensate for the obligations which Turkey was asked to undertake.

To a parliamentary group of the Republican Peoples' Party at Ankara last night Prime Minister Refik Saydam explained that, despite the breakdown of negotiations between Foreign Minister Saracoglu and the Soviet government's spokesmen, the friendly relations between the two countries remained unimpaired. The fact that the Turkish envoy left for home today to the accompaniment of blaring bands and the good wishes of Soviet officials would appear to lend weight to M. Saydam's assurance.

While the basis of Turkish policy has been, as far as possible, to steer clear of international trouble and maintain a neutral and pacific position, when events penetrated the Balkan Peninsula—beginning with the forcible seizure of Albania by Italy—the Ankara government's first consideration naturally was the security of the Mediterranean. For that reason, as Prime Minister Saydam explained months ago, it became necessary "for Turkey to march side by side with Britain"—because "we have resolved, together with other powers having interests in the Mediterranean, that this sea must be considered common property." In other words, Turkey will countenance the establishment of no hegemony in that sphere.

Until the points of conflict between the Ankara and Moscow governments have been revealed, however, it is impossible to speculate on the trend which further discussions may take. It is nevertheless clear at this stage that Turkey is in no mood to be cajoled and that Russia is not inclined to weaken her new influence in eastern Europe by unwise coercion on matters exclusively concerned with the southeast — specifically with the Balkans, the Black Sea and the Dardanelles.

Golf for the Red Cross

TOMORROW AFTERNOON AT THE OAK Bay golf links an international exhibition match will be played in aid of the Red Cross. The visitors from the neighboring republic will be Marvin "Bud" Ward, 1939 United States national amateur champion, and Ken Tucker, professional from Everett and 1939 Pacific Northwest professional champion. Both men are in golfdom's top bracket. Their adversaries will be Ken Black, 1939 Canadian national amateur champion—about whom no comment is necessary because he and his triumphs are so well known—and Phil Taylor, professional at Oak Bay, a veteran of many thrilling encounters, a former Pacific Northwest and British Columbia open champion, and the owner of a large collection of trophies won in Europe.

Apart from the fact that this battle will bring together for the first time in the history of local golf the United States and Canadian national amateur champions, in company with two internationally-redoubtable professional exponents of the royal and ancient pastime, this event has been made possible through a joint gift to the Red Cross of the time and skill of all four players. For the small price of an admission tag, therefore, local devotees of the fairways, and the general public, may avail themselves of the opportunity to aid a most praiseworthy cause and witness a unique and rare exhibition of golfing skill. The four players could ask no better appreciation of their part than a record attendance. It ought to be safe to say they will not be disappointed.

He Knew His Business

ANOTHER OF CANADA'S FAMOUS railroad men has passed to his last rest. He is Albert Edward Warren—well known to thousands of his fellow workers as "Bert." Beginning as a boy in the service of the Canadian Pacific Railway Company, getting the "feel" of the business with that great system, he joined the Canadian Northern early in the century. By dint of hard work, the development of fine talents for organization, promotion followed promotion, until he rose to the important position of vice-president of the Canadian National Railways western lines.

One of Mr. Warren's chief characteristics was a capacity for getting things done, not by the application of the driving principle, but by a method of friendly co-operation which always promotes mutual trust and understanding. To the rigid observance of this maxim he owed his popularity with the rank and file of the system to which he gave the best part of his life. It explains why his rise in the service was so rapid, why the "Bert" of his two Christian names was always good enough for him, why it was used affectionately by all with whom he came in contact. It is the "Bert" Warren, the efficient and the genial railroader, who will be missed in transportation and business circles generally. His place in the national system will not easily be filled.

Real Victory

DR. F. W. NORWOOD, PASTOR OF Vancouver's St. Andrew's Wesley United Church, spoke to the Vancouver Institute recently and confided in his audience that he did not hope for victory as much as he hoped that "we may not be defeated." He had good reason to put it this way because "when we had victory it overwhelmed us; the victors became struggling competitors over the spoils, and the vanquished were so depressed that they needed only a dynamic man like Hitler to lead them to slaughter again." Much to the point, moreover, was his statement that "the victory that humanity needs is the victory over war."

There is, of course, no victory in war. It settles nothing; it recreates hates which have been allowed to smoulder, but which could soon be dissipated if wisdom were not in the habit of periodically abdicating in favor of greed and stupidity. The last war produced almost everything save that for which it was fought. It made the world safe for bigger and more costly wars. It left democracy to fend for itself—and what is left of it is now engaged in a titanic struggle with its antithesis, as represented by the government of the country which was beaten and humbled 25 years ago. But will the nations profit by the lessons of history? Time will tell.

An Able Man Necessary

IT IS EXPECTED THE PROVINCIAL government will appoint an official to act as co-ordinator between British Columbia and the federal government in respect of defence contracts and other industrial business arising directly from Canada's war efforts. The suggestion is that the representative from this province shall establish an office in Ottawa and thus avoid the delays that would be occasioned by long range dealings.

An appointment of this kind naturally will be considered with the utmost care by the provincial cabinet. The nature of the business that would conceivably come within the purview of such an official unquestionably will require unimpeachable probity, expert industrial knowledge, and more than a smattering of commercial values and procedure. Regard to party preference or the satisfaction of political obligations should play no part in the choice of the man for such a highly-important job as this.

Truth Vs. Fantastic Claims

PRIME MINISTER CHAMBERLAIN'S weekly report on the progress of the war to the House of Commons this afternoon included one of those typical assuring references to the part the Navy is playing. We can almost hear the government leader saying this as he alluded to the U-boat campaign against British shipping:

"Failure of this form of attack to interfere with our trade may be judged when I inform the House that it is estimated that losses sustained by British shipping entering or leaving our ports during the week ending October 17 represents only about one-half of one per cent of the total number sailing."

Mr. Chamberlain knows only too well, of course, that this is too early in the conflict to make either idle boasts or unwise predictions. But the foregoing and other items of progress to which he referred today also are suggestive that it is foolish to pay much attention to Germany's dissemination of what the Prime Minister describes as "fantastic claims and false news."

Having lined up his support, Hitler finds himself in the quandary well known to practical politicians: "Will the boys stay put?"

Those soldiers a reporter found playing football on the western front don't believe in letting a little thing like a war interfere with their soccer season.

Science note tells us that a sap in the case of one species of tree travels at the rate of eight inches a minute. And runs into them at 60 miles an hour.

Business Prosperity Ahead

From Toronto Star

The war has meant a readjustment of Canadian business, to be followed inevitably by an expansion of wholesale and retail trade. The placing of huge war orders in Canada means increased employment at good wages. This in turn means that more people have more money to spend. And the augmented purchasing power thus provided means more sales, more business for all the multitude of concerns which cater to consumer demand. As surely as rains upon the watersheds swell the rivers, so is the increased employment of wartime certain to swell the flood of goods-and-service purchasing.

Canadian business was not doing so badly even during the months of crisis before war was finally declared. In fact it was doing well. A government reports points out that during the first eight months of this year "the gain in business operations was a tangible factor in improved economic conditions. The index of the physical volume of business averaged 117.9 against 109.8 during the same period of 1938, a gain of 7.4 per cent." The July index was 120.5; August, 125.2.

When war was declared, therefore, it did not follow upon a business collapse, as was the case in 1914, but came at a juncture when (in August) "the index of the physical volume of business had reached the highest point since November of 1937," an unusually good year. This time there existed a solid foundation upon which to build.

Loose Ends

By BRUCE HUTCHISON

WONDERLAND

THE UNITED STATES, which considers itself the hardest-boiled egg in the nest, is really a beautifully simple Peter Pan among the nations, a kind of unconscious Santa Claus. Its present policy of business, indeed, resembles nothing so much as the Mad Hatter's tea party.

Look for a moment at what the United States is doing and plans to do during the war. It is going to have a war boom. It is going to sell its materials and goods to the Allies and, imagining itself hard-boiled, it is going to sell the goods on a strictly cash basis. It isn't going to lose any money this time. That means it will insist on the Allies paying for the goods in gold.

"We must have gold," said the Mad Hatter. "We don't intend to lose anything on this war."

"Yes," said Alice, "but what do you want the gold for? Haven't you got 60 per cent of the world's gold already?"

"The trouble with you," said the Mad Hatter, "is that you don't understand economics."

"What do you intend to do with the gold?" Alice said, respectfully, knowing that the Hatter was an experienced business man and a captain of industry.

"Why, we'll bury it in the ground, of course," said the Hatter. "You don't think we're going to leave it lying around loose for someone else to take do you. We ought to know what to do with gold by now. We've had enough experience."

"If you'll pardon my ignorance," said Alice, "I just don't see what use gold is in in the ground. Wouldn't it be better if you got something you could use instead? You might trade your goods for something—well, something like sponge cake."

"We don't want sponge cake," said the Hatter. "We have our own sponge cake industry. What would happen to it if we started to import our sponge cake from foreign sources?"

"But, have all your people got enough sponge cake to eat?" Alice said. "Couldn't they use some more if they could get it?"

"Of course they could," the Hatter said. "Millions of them haven't any sponge cake at all but that has nothing to do with it. If we brought in any more sponge cake it would disrupt the local sponge cake industry and all its workers would be unemployed and then they could buy no sponge cake. So you can see that we can't possibly bring in any more sponge cake. We must have gold."

"Would the people rather eat gold than sponge cake?" Alice asked innocently.

"Don't be silly," said the Hatter. "You can't eat gold, but it makes you rich. Why, look what we are going to do with the gold we have now. We're going to lend it to the South American countries and then they can buy our sponge cake. And when all our sponge cake factories are going and shipping their products to South America we shall have prosperity."

"But will South America pay you back?" said Alice.

"I suppose not," the Hatter said with a touch of gloom. "They owe us three billions now but they don't pay a cent on it. But that doesn't matter," he added, brightening, "when we loaned them the three billions they bought American goods with it. We were able to export a great deal of sponge cake."

"So when the deal was over," Alice said, "they had the sponge cake and the money as well and what did you have?"

"Well, I'm not quite sure about that," said the Hatter. "That comes under the heading of government policy. I'm only a sponge cake maker and so long as I can sell my sponge cake I know that is good business."

"You mean, then," said Alice, "that so long as you are sending your sponge cake away and your money as well you are prosperous?"

"Exactly so," said the Hatter. "It's all very simple."

"But don't you ever get hungry for sponge cake yourself?"

"Oh, rather," said the Hatter, "but I can't afford to buy it myself, of course. I have to ship it abroad so that I can make money to keep my children. Sometimes, after a good month of business, we are able to afford a little sponge cake ourselves for tea, as a treat you know. But these luxuries are not for all of us by any means. We have to conserve our wealth for export so that we can pile up the gold in the ground, and then lend the gold out to people who can't pay it back, so then we can keep on shipping them sponge cake, and that keeps us all at work and then, as I say, on special occasions we can have sponge cake for tea."

"It sounds to me" said Alice, "as if you were giving your sponge cake away for nothing like Santa Claus at Christmas."

"Nonsense," said the Hatter, "we are simply doing business on sound lines, but you have to be a busines man to understand that. We Americans are the shrewdest businessmen in the world. "That's why we are so rich while the other nations, what have they got?"

"They've got your sponge cake," said Alice.

"Exactly," said the Hatter, "and we have the money. Now I'll have another cup of tea, please. I do wish the Dormouse hadn't eaten all the sponge cake. I would enjoy a piece right now, but I suppose one can't expect these luxuries in wartime."

If your neighbor's dog barks, you have a choice between two bad things: (1) Endure the dog; (2) complain and endure a pouting neighbor.

Where Censors Always Fail

By ELMORE PHILPOTT

ONE OF THE handicaps which always besets a democratic nation in time of war is that it temporarily has to become a partial dictatorship to be able to cope effectively with a formidable enemy. This is partly because in all human emergencies, when a great mass of people have to work together to achieve their purpose, there has to be unified direction unless the efforts are to be largely nullified because those engaged in them work at cross purposes.

No nation can engage in modern war without censorship. Military intelligence is so vitally important to all war-making nations under modern circumstances that even now, in spite of all the restrictions and safeguards, all the powers are spending vast sums to find out what they need to know to fight the war.

If there were no censorship the sinking of troopships would be ridiculously easy, raids could be made even more deadly than now, no surprise attack could ever be effective, and so on ad infinitum.

Yet the necessity for censorship deprives a democracy of the full use of what is after all its best weapon. Freedom has no meaning unless men can base their thoughts and acts on what they sincerely believe to be true. They cannot hope to know the whole truth when so many channels of information are plugged by censorship.

The trouble with censorship, from the standpoint of democracy, is that it is just negative while truth, as a weapon of the most effective kind, needs real freedom from restriction in order to do positive work. Censors can stop newspaper reports which might convey military information to the enemy. But censorship can also indirectly prevent the dissemination of information which might be as effective or important on the home front as the winning of a battle in the actual arena of fighting.

I OFTEN THINK back to the last war and how the censorship worked out then. The most glaring example was the Battle of Passchendaele. The newspapers were carrying dispatches about our magnificent victories, and the silliest kind of propaganda stories, including one by Philip Gibbs entitled "The Glory That was Passchendaele." Actually what was going on was one of the most stubbornly prolonged, self-inflicted massacres in the whole history of military operations. That is long since universally admitted, and we have the British Ministry of Information now giving out that there will be no Passchendaele in this war.

The point is that there would have been no Passchendaele as was had a half-dozen real newspapermen been allowed to write then as they would naturally have written had there been no censorship. Anyone who compares what Philip Gibbs wrote as "The Glory That Was Passchendaele with what he wrote after the war as Sir Philip Gibbs in "Now It Can Be Told" will see what I mean.

Long before this war started I had come to the conclusion that the outcome of the last war would have been very different and less disastrous than it was had there been about one-tenth the censorship that there was. I have seen nothing in this war to change that belief. I believe in freedom of the press, especially in wartime.

HIGHWAY TO ALASKA?

From Des Moines Tribune

The European war, by making the Americans look anew to their defences, is giving impetus to the movement for a modern highway from the United States through western Canada to Alaska and the Yukon.

Although tourists undoubtedly would account for most of the travel over the proposed motor route, it would have immeasurable defence value for both the United States and Canada, neither of which keeps large military forces in northern outposts.

Members of the International Highway Board, who recently traveled over the proposed route in a 4,000-mile airplane trip, brought back enthusiastic reports of snow peaks of unsurpassed grandeur, a chain of great lakes, a new grand canyon, and an "untold wealth of gold and other minerals."

The road would open a vast playground for vacationists, and would promote the economic development of an enormous area.

The Alaska road would cost $22,000,000. This is less than the cost of a single naval cruiser of good dimensions.

A HAIR SURVIVES

From Leigh Hunt

Hair is the most delicate and lasting of our materials, and survives us, like love. It is so light, so gentle, so escaping from the idea of death, that with a lock of hair belonging to a child or friend we may almost look up to heaven and compare notes with the angelic nature—may almost say, "I have a piece of thee here not unworthy of thy being now."

SMART STRATEGY

Thus far the Allies have shown smart strategy. Obviously they plan a defensive war and a siege, so time is working definitely in their favor. They have been able to move their troops into fighting positions without being bombed, largely because Hitler has been trying to fight this war in accordance with a prearranged schedule.

And this is where the Germans have shown anything but smart strategy. Obviously Hitler had a plan, first, speedily to conquer Poland; second, to scare the Allies with the might of his offensive; and third, to agitate for an early peace because, with Poland gone, there was nothing left to fight about.

Now, it is always wise to have a plan, but it is unwise to stick to a plan that doesn't bring results. For the past few weeks Hitler has stuck to his peace offensive, ignoring the fact that by doing so he has been giving his opponents a tremendous advantage.

Meanwhile the Allies realize that Hitler is being deluded by his own hopes and so they have been keeping the peace door slightly open, and thereby leading Hitler on to fighting the battle along their own lines. Obviously they want Hitler to lead with his "right," his "might," while they will lay back until he has done so and then they will counter.

So, if the war seems "phoney," it is only because both sides are moving in accordance with prearranged plans, plans which on the German side ignore certain basic factors in that they fail to recognize that the Allies will fight merely to maintain their ideals. Obviously the German plans will have to be revised, and immediately thereafter a war of fury will be unleashed. And, of course, there is nothing that will kill off peace talk as quickly as hostilities on a large scale.—H. A. Humber.

PATRIOTIC MANUFACTURERS

James H. Gray is The Nation

Canadian tariffs have been steadily rising against American goods since Confederation. And in all tthe agitation for higher tariffs will be found the fine American hand of the United States industrialist who has opened a Canadian branch.

For fervid patriotism, no animal even approaches the American manufacturer in his native haunts. But let the same industrialist come to Canada to establish a factory, and the mere mention of the United States will send him rushing to Ottawa in tears.

Here, he boasts that his goods are Made-in-Canada. He sees to it that the Made-in-Canada mark is clearly printed on the packing cases, the cartons, the wrappers, and even, where possible, on the products themselves. His pride in his American factories is strictly for home consumption, and he throws his American slogans into the Niagara River with the American flag when he crosses into Canada.

Here his cars are "Built in Canada By Canadian Workmen," and are "Better Because It's Canadian." Their new typewriters and catsup are flamboyantly labeled "British Empire Products."

BOYCOTT DISCRIMINATION

From Winnipeg Free Press

There are boycotts and boycotts, and care must always be taken that this effective weapon be used with discrimination. A great many persons are involved in the simple operation of a consumer refusing to purchase a certain type or kind of goods.

The consideration that arouses this thought is the fact that a number of Canadian merchants who have had to stock up with various kinds of German-made goods, are now in serious difficulties concerning their disposal to the public. The current boycott against Germany is not, in the retail phase of selling, striking at Germany at all but at Canadians, for the goods already in this country have been paid for long since. This phase is not in any way connected wth the national boycott of Germany, which went into effect immediately upon the outbreak of hostilities.

Therefore, the question centres around the propriety of continuing to sell those German-made goods already in Canada. A strict boycott penalizing Canadian merchants and adding to their troubles, hardly seems to be even horsesense.

Avalanches are becoming common in the mountains of southern Siberia, making travel there very dangerous.

TRIBUTE GIVEN MINISTER'S WORK

The congregation of St. John's Church last night said farewell to Rev. G. R. V. and Mrs. Bolster, when tribute was paid by officials of the church to Mr. Bolster's excellent work during his three years as assistant pastor and presentations were made to him and his wife.

Mr. and Mrs. Bolster will leave shortly for Bend, Oregon, where Mr. Bolster has accepted a call.

The valuable contribution which Mr. Bolster had made to St. John's was dealt with in remarks by Rev. Canon F. A. P. Chadwick, rector, who presided. The presentation to Mr. Bolster was made by W. A. Patterson, rector's warden, and consisted of a purse containing a cheque. Mrs. A. V. Price presented Mrs. Bolster with a corsage bouquet.

Mr. Bolster expressed appreciation and said he would always have many pleasant memories of happy associations at St. John's.

A musical program was contributed during the evening by Miss Iris Smith, Mrs. Hazel Sherrat, Arthur Jackman and Ian Galliford. Refreshments were served.

ST. JOHN'S A.Y.P.A.

On Monday at the meeting of St. John's A.Y.P.A. a debate took place between St. John's and Cathedral members, Cathedral being the winner. Next Monday will be a business meeting with the conference delegates giving their reports.

Cleaned Transports And Heaved Coal As Her "Bit"

Fairfield Woman Who Registers Recalls Her Last War Work

One of the first, if not the first, to register for the Voluntary Registration of Women was a resident of Fairfield who arrived soon after 8 on Monday morning, full of keenness and enthusiasm to register to do her bit in this war as she did in the Great War.

During the last war she was in active service from the beginning to the end, first as a transport cleaner, where her job was not one of publicity, no sounding brass or immaculate uniform, but with mops, pails and brooms she helped to clean liners of the Allan and Cunard Line, making them ready for the troops.

DID COAL HEAVING

The story of her experiences was intensely interesting. At one time, in an emergency, she and several companions were asked to do coal heaving for one of the liners, "hard work," she stated, "but we did not mind; the hardest part was trying to get my face clean during the next few weeks."

Finally this enthusiastic person had to give up the transport job owing to an accident, but, nothing daunted, she entered a munition factory and for some time inspected and packed shells. The end of the war found her a ward maid in one of the military hospitals, where she often amused the soldiers by playing the piano. On the day the Armistice was signed she was given permission to pass around wine to all the patients in the ward, which, she said, "was like a sacrament."

NO RACIAL BIAS

Later she came to Canada and now has a grown-up family and is ready to devote her time and energy once again to war work. When asked what she would like to do she replied, "Anything you like; ready to do anything or go anywhere." When asked question No. 10 on the questionnaire, "Could you take in children or adults in an emergency, and what sex, race," etc., her answer was, "Yes, of course, any race or color; Chinese would do, they need looking after as much as anyone else."

This and much more was the tone of the little lady, who still spends her time working and her spare time in crocheting for babies' hospitals, both here and in England. At one time she sent six baby jackets to the Princess Elizabeth of York Hospital, Shadwell, London, England, and received a letter of thanks from the Queen.

It was an inspiration to register such a person, and it is this spirit of selfless sacrifice that is sorely needed today. Of course, there are thousands like her, who quietly and humbly and unseen did their bit in some way or another, for whom there is no reward save that of knowing they had not failed in the time of their country's need.

Social and Personal

Mrs. Robert Elwood of Vancouver is visiting here for a few days, as the guest of Mrs. George Exley, 2981 Qu'appelle Street.

Mrs. W. D. McWha has returned to her home on Linden Avenue after visiting in Vancouver for the last week.

Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Graham, formerly Elizabeth Edwards, have returned from their honeymoon on the mainland and are resident on Trent Street.

Miss Mary Stinson, who is a nurse on the staff of the Dalkeith Nursing Home, left on Sunday to spend a week's vacation in Seattle and Olympia.

Dr. and Mrs. S. Janowski, Pakington Street, spent the week-end at Shawnigan Lake as the guests of Mr. and Mrs. T. B. Bennett.

Mrs. Earl Southwell of San Francisco, who is visiting her brother-in-law and sister, Rev. G. H. Scarrett and Mrs. Scarrett, University School, will leave at the week-end for the south.

Mrs. E. Anderson, Tillicum Road, left this afternoon for Vancouver to attend there the marriage tomorrow of her daughter, Miss Eva May Anderson, and Gunner George Prior, eldest son of Mr. and Mrs. G. Prior, Esquimalt Road.

Mrs. A. J. Woodward of "Clovelly," North Quadra Street, and her daughter, Miss Gwladys Woodward, who left here some months ago for England, have arrived safely in New York. They will return via California, where they will visit Mrs. Woodward's daughter, Mrs. Hugh Nichols, in San Mateo before returning to Victoria.

Mrs. R. W. D. Stanger entertained on Monday afternoon at a children's party in honor of the second birthday of her son David. Refreshments were served from a table decorated with colored balloons and centred with the birthday cake bearing two candles, which was the handiwork of Miss K. Meyers. The invited guests were: Mrs. S. Benwell and Doris, Mrs. R. Lanning and Teddy, Mrs. J. Smith and Carol, Mrs. E. Roberts, with Joan and June, Mrs. G. Barry and Virginia, Mrs. J. Turner, Mrs. R. Kersey and Lynn, Mrs. E. Minaker and Donalee and the Misses Kay and Beth Meyers.

Mrs. Gertrude Huntly Green left last night for Vancouver to spend a few days there with friends, prior to returning to her home in Ontario. On Friday she will be joined in Vancouver by her daughter, Mrs. James D. Munro, Granite Street, who will accompany her mother east for a short visit. Mrs. Munro's home on Granite Street will be occupied by Mr. and Mrs. Donald Campbell while she is in the east.

Mrs. Roy Harris, a recent bride, was the guest of honor when Island Temple No. 8, Pythian Sisters, held a miscellaneous shower after their recent meeting. Mrs. Harris was presented with a lovely bouquet. The gifts were presented by Sisters I. Doncaster and M. Haines in a basket decorated in blue and pink, after which the sisters joined hands and sang "She's a Jolly Good Fellow." The guests present were: Mesdames J. Moorhead, B. Marshall, M. Cosman, V. Barry, R. Smith, C. Guptill, M. McAllister, B. McDowell, L. Hockley, D. Dodd, W. Davies, T. Grant, M. Stanley, C. Peck, W. McKay, V. Short, E. Cummings, S. Vosper, L. Evens, I. Doncaster, M. Haines, H. Munro, L. Keiser, Misses V. Mesher, L. Bennallack, F. Cosman, K. Allison and L. Sanderson.

An enjoyable kitchen shower was held on Monday evening by the members of Job's Daughters in honor of Mrs. Frank Ross (nee Phyliss White), a recent bride. Mrs. H. O. Austin, past grand guardian of the order, lent her home on William Street, for the occasion. The many gifts were presented in a prettily decorated box of purple and white, the lodge colors. Mrs. William White, the bride's mother, and Miss Edith Osbourne, honored queen, presided at the tea table. Among the invited guests were Mrs. H. O. Austin, Mrs. William White, Mrs. F. Crocker, Mrs. Trip, Mrs. Findler, Mrs. Jean Thomson, Mrs. S. Rabey, Mrs. G. Bowditch, Mrs. R. Muir, Mrs. C. Sluggett, Mrs. S. Davies, the Misses Jean Thomson, Winnie Williams, Norma and Aileen Brennan, Isla Neelands, Edith Osbourne, Joan Clark, Isabelle Bull, Marjorie McConnell, Edna Steer, Eleanor Hourston, Ella Wiltshire, Sylvia Grist, Josephine Flack, Phyliss Adams, Alice Findler, Eva and Margaret Hiquebran, Nellie Sims, Edith Crocker, Beth Taylor and Grace Revercomb.

Mrs. W. F. Loveland was hostess to about 20 members of the Arts and Crafts Sketch Club at her home on Point Street Monday. The members will hold a small exhibition at the Windermere Hotel of sketches done during the year. The show will be open from 2 until 5 o'clock on Monday and Tuesday afternoon.

Mrs. E. Whitehead entertained a few of the fellow workers of her daughter, Mrs. F. A. Frewing (nee Whitehead) at her home on the West Saanich Road, recently. Refreshments were served from a table centred with a vase of nasturtiums by the Misses Winnifred and Beryl Whitehead. The guests were: Miss M. Jones, Mrs. G. Wells, Mrs. C. Kohl, Mrs. H. Hipwood, Mrs. J. Naysmith, Misses D. Brooks, M. and K. Sparrowhawke, K. Fowler and R. Appleby.

Mrs. C. Sluggett, Miss Evelyn Goddart and Miss Dorothy Sluggett entertained at a tea on Sunday afternoon at the former's home, West Saanich Road, in honor of Miss Muriel Sluggett, who is to be married this month. The table was arranged with a lace cloth and silver vases of mauve and pink asters and pink snapdragons, with tall pink tapers in silver holders. Miss "Tooke" Wyllys poured the tea and Miss Phyllis Sluggett coffee. Miss Sluggett was presented with a handsome coffee table and a corsage of gardenias and violets from the friends present. The guests were: Mrs. S. Sluggett, Mrs. J. Barnes, Misses Muriel Sluggett, Evelyn Goddart, Dorothy Sluggett, Betty Murdock, Joyce Carrier, "Tooke" Wyllys, Joyce and Lorna Thomson, Elma Sluggett, Edith Wilson, Margaret and Kay Johnston, "Pat" Lock, Janet Sturrock, Margaret Evans and Phyllis Sluggett.

Mr. and Mrs. William McPhee, 620 Dunedin Street, were "at home" to a large number of friends yesterday afternoon and evening in celebration of their silver wedding day. They were the recipients of many beautiful gifts, including a silver tray from the members of the Esquimalt Hall Association, and lovely flowers from the Esquimalt Chapter, O.E.S. and other friends. Chrysanthemums were arranged throughout the rooms, and the tea-table, at which Mrs. Mary Bray and Mrs. May McLaren presided in the afternoon, was covered with a beautiful lace cloth, which had belonged to Mrs. McPhee's grandmother in the Old Country. In the evening about 50 friends called and enjoyed dancing.

Mrs. A. R. Frewing and Mrs. A. F. Frewing were joint hostesses last evening at the latter's home, 2090 Cadboro Bay Road, at a miscellaneous shower in honor of Rev. and Mrs. F. A. Frewing, formerly Miss Evelyn Whitehead. The rooms were arranged with chrysanthemums and dahlias, and the many beautiful gifts were concealed in a box decorated with pink and white. The guests were Mesdames C. Whitehead, F. Creed, A. Shiner, F. B. Briggs, M. Blackstock, M. Chubb, Adjutant C. Watt, A. Rowes, Freeth, Mr. and Mrs. A. J. C. Frewing, Mr. and Mrs A. Bagshaw, Mr. and Mrs. A. F. Frewing, Mr. and Mrs. A. R. Frewing, Misses Winnifred and Beryl Whitehead, H. Anderson, R., D. and M. Wilson, J. Frewing, Messrs. A. Hall and H. and D. Frewing.

Mrs. J. Rimmer and Mrs. J. Anslow were joint hostesses at a kitchen shower last evening at the latter's home on Suffolk Street in compliment to Miss Gay Stewart. Autumn flowers were arranged in the rooms, and Miss Stewart received a corsage bouquet of red carnations. The useful gifts, wrapped in grey crepe paper to resemble rocks, were piled up in the form of a lighthouse, which stood in the living-room. Chinese checkers were played and supper was served at small, prettily arranged tables, that of the bride-to-be being centred with a rose bowl containing red carnations, lighted by red tapers in silver holders. The guests were Mesdames J. Stewart, D. Munroe, J. A. C. Anslow Sr., T. Miles, D. Warburton, Lee Johnston, F. Miller, H. Rimmer, J. McDonald, G. Patton, C. Campbell, J. Webster, M. Rutledge, Ganshorn, B. King, M. Fyfe, and Misses Myrtle Brown, Rosella McDonald, Edna Creed, C. Webster, Florence Foyer and Lillian Ganshorn.

Mrs. Arthur George Ford, the former Eva Lillian Aldridge, married recently at St. Paul's Naval and Garrison Church.

Weddings

PRICE—TAYLOR

A quiet wedding was solemnized at St. Peter's Church, Quamichan, this morning at 11, when Rev. T. M. Hughes united in marriage Sheila Jean, daughter of the late Captain J. W. Taylor and Mrs. Taylor, Vancouver, and Arthur Frederick Price, only son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank H. Price, Duncan. The church was beautifully decorated for the occasion with autumn flowers and leaves by Miss Esme Mutter, Miss Zeta Allen, Mrs. A. Hassell and Mrs. J. Hewlett. Mr. Clements was at the organ and played the wedding march from "Lohengrin."

The bride, who was given in marriage by her brother, Mr. William Watson Taylor, Vancouver, looked very smart in a dress of laurel green wool sheer, with a brown hat trimmed with green, and brown accessories. Her corsage bouquet was of Talisman roses. Her bridesmaid, Miss Esme Mutter, wore a dress of mauve wool with black accessories and corsage of yellow roses. Mr. R. E. Baiss was best man.

After the ceremony a reception was held at the home of the bride's sister and brother-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. J. Stewart-Williams, Quamichan Lake, where Mrs. J. W. Taylor received the guests wearing an ensemble of black silk with black and white hat, and Mrs. F. H. Price in a dress of wine color silk crepe, hat to match and a cape of beaver. The house was prettily decorated with Michaelmas daisies and dahlias, and the three-tiered wedding cake adorned the centre of the dining table.

After the reception the young couple left for a honeymoon in the interior, the bride wearing her wedding outfit, topped by a short fur coat. On their return they will live in Duncan.

YOUNG—GREEN

In the presence of many friends of the principals, the marriage of Clare Ashdown, daughter of Mrs. Ashdown T. Green, Michigan Street, and the late Ashdown T. Green of Duncan, to William Ronald Young, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. L. B. Young, 2314 Oak Bay Avenue, was solemnized at St. Mary's Church, Oak Bay, last night at 8. Ven. Archdeacon A. E. de L. Nunns performed the ceremony, and Mr. Edgar Holloway was at the organ. The church was effectively arranged with pink and white chrysanthemums.

The bride was given in marriage by her only brother, Mr. J. W. Ashdown Green, and looked charming in a graceful gown of white ninon, with an accordion-pleated skirt, the bodice being made with a V-neck and the small lace coatee having puffed sleeves. Her veil of palest pink illusion net fell from a simple chaplet of mother-of-pearl, and she carried a bouquet of pale pink bridal roses and small white chrysanthemums.

Miss Gwladys Downes of Vancouver, in deep turquoise blue taffeta, and Miss Betty Young, sister of the groom, in old rose taffeta, wore gowns fashioned alike with matching jackets, and small hats of gold mesh with loops of gold ribbon at the back. They wore gold shoes, and both carried sheaves of pale gold chrysanthemums. Mr. R. B. Young, brother of the groom, was best man.

After the ceremony, a reception was held at the home of the groom's parents, "Meota," Oak Bay Avenue. Mrs. Ashdown Green received the guests in a floor-length gown of blue triple sheer with lace yoke and sleeves, and Mrs. Young wore a floor-length, the skirt being of black silk and the yoke of black lace over pale pink georgette.

The bride and groom left for the mainland on their honeymoon trip and the bride traveled in a frock of mulberry triple sheer with smart hat of black felt trimmed with black satin ribbon and a French seal coat to which was pinned her corsage bouquet of pale pink carnations.

Upon their return to the city, Mr. and Mrs. Young will make their home at 1249 Rockland Avenue.

LAIRD—MADDEN

At a private marriage service on Saturday evening, Miss Margaret Madden, younger daughter of the late Mr. W. Madden and Mrs. Mary Madden of Regina, Sask., became the bride of Mr. Ralph Laird of Saskatoon.

The bride, who was supported by Miss Beth Meyers, wore a dress of teal blue with accessories in wine shade. Mr. Ronald Alloway was best man.

After a honeymoon spent on the mainland Mr. and Mrs. Laird will make their home at 309 Henry Street, Victoria West.

BROWN—HOOD

At the Esquimalt Naval and Military United Church, Esquimalt, last evening, the marriage took place of Edith Cameron, twin daughter of Rev. James and Mrs. Hood, 1311 Lyall Street, and Walter Graham Brown, son of Mrs. James Brown, Rutheglen, Scotland, and the late Mrs. Brown. Goldenrod and Michaelmas daisies were arranged in the church, and the bride's father performed the ceremony.

Mr. D. R. MacDonald of Comox, a cousin of the bride, gave her in marriage. She wore a smart navy blue tailored suit with a matching hat and a corsage bouquet of cream rosebuds, lily of the valley and white heather. The bridesmaid was her twin sister, Miss Etta Hood, in a comet blue wool-crepe dress, a blue hat and a corsage bouquet of pink rosebuds and lily of the valley. Mr. James Brydon, Vancouver, was best man and the ushers were Mr. Fred Wheeley and Mr. Reginald Owen.

An informal reception was held at the home of the bride's parents, Lyall Street, where Mrs. Hood was assisted in receiving by Mrs. Prosser, sister of the bridegroom. Before the bride cut the cake, the toast was proposed by Rev. W. F. Burns, Duncan, an old family friend. Pink candles and vases of pink rosebuds adorned the supper table, which was covered with a handsome lace cloth.

Out-of-town guests included Mr. and Mrs. J. Brydon, Vancouver; Miss Grace Watson and Mrs. Arthur Evans, Duncan; Mr. and Mrs. D. R. MacDonald, Comox, and Mrs. J. C. Brown, Cumberland.

After a honeymoon on the mainland, Mr. and Mrs. Brown will make their home on Currie Road, Oak Bay.

Mr. and Mrs. Garfield Robbins, the former Evelyn Davies, who were married recently at St. Aidan's United Church.

How to Make a Splendid Cough Remedy at Home
A Big Saving, and It's So Easy! No Cooking!
Cough medicines usually contain a large quantity of sugar syrup—a good ingredient, but one which you can easily make at home. Take 2 cups of granulated sugar and 1 cup of water, and stir a few moments until dissolved. No cooking! No trouble at all.
Then get from your druggist 2½ ounces of Pinex, pour it into a 16-ounce bottle, and add your syrup. This gives you 16 ounces of really splendid medicine for bad winter coughs. It makes a real saving for you, because it gives you four times as much cough remedy for your money. It lasts a long time, never spoils, and children love it.
This is a very effective, dependable, quick-acting cough remedy for the whole family. Quickly, you feel its penetrating effect in the air passages. It loosens the phlegm, soothes the irritated membranes and makes breathing easy. You will be more than delighted with its quick effect in clearing up bad coughs.
Pinex is a compound containing Norway Pine and palatable guaiacol, in concentrated form, a well known and reliable soothing agent for winter coughs. Money refunded if it doesn't please you in every way.

ANTHONY WILLIAMS TO GIVE RECITAL

The Governor-General and Lady Tweedsmuir have extended their honorary patronage to the recital which is to be given on Wednesday evening, November 15, in aid of the Red Cross by Anthony Williams, former Victoria tenor, who recently returned after a long absence in Europe.

Mr. Williams, who left here 18 years ago to continue his vocal studies in Europe, was a pupil of Jean de Reszke for several years in the south of France before studying the bel canto method in Milan, Italy, with the late Signor Caruso's coach.

He has given recitals on the Riviera in Italy, recitals of sacred music in Westminster Abbey and Lincoln Cathedral; appeared in concert in Berlin, Vienna, Rome, Paris, Monte Carlo and other European cities, and had the honor of singing before the late King George and Queen Mary, and also to the present King and Queen.

His forthcoming recital, to be given in the Metropolitan Church, kindly loaned by Rev. A. E. Whitehouse and the church committee, will consist of sacred compositions. Edward Parsons will be at the organ.

Y.W.C.A. NOTES

The first dance of the season at the Y.W.C.A. will be held on Tuesday, October 31 when dancing will begin at 8.30 with Fred Pitt's orchestra in attendance. This is a masquerade costume party and a buffet supper will be served by the members of the Omphalos Club, who are sponsoring this program feature. Invitations may be secured from members of the club.

Under the leadership of Miss Evelyn Rhodes graduates of the Girls' Hi-Y Clubs throughout the city are organizing a club which will meet twice every month at the Y.W.C.A. The next meeting will take place on Friday at 7.30.

On Thursday evening at 8 a Camera Club will be organized for beginners, at the Y.W.C.A. A competent leader has been secured and it is hoped that some work may be done on composition, developing, etc. This group is free to members of the Y.W.C.A., while for others there is a small fee.

Club to Hear Talk On the Royal Thames

The Women's Canadian Club at its meeting on Tuesday next in the Empress Hotel ballroom at 2.45 will hear Mrs. Conway Evans of England. Mrs. Evans is crossing Canada in a world tour, and has been addressing Canadian clubs in Western Canada.

The topic of her address is "The Royal Thames," which will be illustrated by beautiful slides. Mrs. Evans is a keen student of British history, and talks in an unusually interesting manner about the Royal family while showing pictures of royal residences, cathedrals, etc., which are situated on the Thames.

The soloist for this meeting will be Mrs. Jack Barraclough, and she will be accompanied by Mrs. Pierre Timp.

Mr. and Mrs. F. M. Eastwood who celebrated their golden wedding anniversary at the home of their son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. E. E. Eastwood, Saltair, V.I. on Sunday. The table was centred with a decorated cake in gold, pink and white, and vases of gold-colored chrysanthemums from which a buffet supper was served by their granddaughters. During the afternoon a purse was presented from their 11 children. Mrs. Eastwood, the former Miss Annie Biggs, youngest daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. John Biggs of Nanaimo, was born in Nanaimo in 1872. Mr. Eastwood was born in Yorkshire in 1862 and came to Canada in 1879. He went into the employ of the original old Vancouver Coal Company and was appointed to government light service in 1891, retiring in 1932. They were married in North Wellington by the late Rev. Christie in 1889.

Earl Haig's Widow Dies in Wales

LONDON (CP) — Countess Haig, 60, widow of Field Marshal Earl Haig, died at Glyn Bangor, North Wales, Monday. She was Dorothy, daughter of the late Lord Vivian.

The late King Edward VII considered Haig his best general and exacted a promise from Lady Haig at her marriage in 1905 not to interfere with the marshal's military career.

Her pride in her husband's achievement as field marshal in the first Great War led her to defend him from attacks made on him following his death.

She was well known as a writer, two of her best known books being "A Scottish Tour" and "The Man I Know." Her son, the second Earl Haig, was born in 1918 and succeeded his father in 1928.

St. Alban's Girls' W.A. met last evening at the home of Mrs. J. Stansby, Bay Street. A silver tea and sale of work will be held at the home of Mrs. T. A. Penketh, 2744 Avebury Street, on November 15.

Princess Patricia Lodge No. 238, Daughters of St. George, will meet in the K. of C. Hall on Friday, October 20, at 7.30 p.m., followed by a card social. Members to bring refreshments.

Social and Personal

Miss Kathleen Brown was the guest of honor Monday when Mrs. J. Walton entertained at her home on North Quadra Street. During the evening the bride-to-be was the recipient of a handsome coffee table, presented with a pretty corsage bouquet and the good wishes of those present. The rooms were decorated with gold and white chrysanthemums. After games and contests a buffet supper was served. The guests included Mesdames A. Brown, G. Kirkendale, T. Mills, P. Waterhouse, M. Leslie-Melville, E. Moss, C. Clarke, M. MacGovern, E. Leigh, C. Hodgson, J. Aris, R. Taylor, J. Alton, R. Muirhead, A. Stokes, R. Cox, N. Dunn, D. Crawford and the Misses K. Brown, R. Kirkendale, G. Oates, E. Oates, and R. Walton.

St. Andrew's Presbyterian W.M.S. met Monday afternoon, Mrs. M. C. Fuller, vice-president, presiding. The devotional period was taken by Mrs. Lister and Mrs. J. P. Dempsey. Miss Margaret Ramsay, missionary from Formosa, who returns to her field this week, was the guest speaker and gave graphic accounts of her work amongst women and children and in the hospital. Miss Ramsay was thanked by Mrs. Fuller.

The committee of the First Spiritualist Church will hold a silver tea on Friday afternoon in the S.O.E. Hall, 1216 Broad Street from 2.30 till 5. Mrs. C. P. Milne will be convener, assisted by Mrs. E. R. Etheridge and Mrs. E. Fanthorpe, with Rev. Flora Frampton reading teacups and Mrs. Johnson reading cards. A hearty welcome is extended to all.

Clubwomen's News

The winter season of military 500 opened at Hampton Hall Saturday at 8.30. Prizes were won by: First, Mrs. W. Evans, Mrs. J. Mercer, A. A. Pass and T. Deveson; second, Mrs. Deveson, Mrs. Arnold, Messrs. Jackson and Stewart; third, Mrs. Jackson, Mrs. Kinsey, Messrs. Eastham and Evans. Mystery prize box won by G. T. Mercer.

Under the auspices of the Loyal True Blues, a dance will be held in the K.O.P. Hall, 1415 Broad Street, Thursday, under the convenership of the W.M. Sister Aspinwall Jr., assisted by Sister L. Mason and Sister P. Aspinwall. Refreshments will be served and prizes given and the Haymaker's orchestra will have charge.

The Margaret Irvine Mission Circle of St. Aidan's United at its recent meeting at the home of Miss Esther Wells, made plans for a gift table at the church bazaar November 15; donations will be received by Mrs. A. Knapp. A thankoffering supper meeting will be held November 10 at the home of Miss Barbara Dawson for all members of this circle. At the close the hostess served refreshments.

Authors Hear Craft Talks

Information on publishers' needs and how the war may affect the writing craft, and reports on recent literary successes of members were given at a meeting of the Victoria branch of the Canadian Authors' Association held in the Empress Hotel last night.

Mrs. F. G. Berton, president, read excerpts from the leading article in the last number of the Canadian Author, the official organ of the association, concerning the activities of Canadian writers during the present Empire emergency. The tragedy of Europe for the moment transcended all other considerations and interests in the lives of thinking people, and the editor of the magazine suggested that it was the imperative duty of Canadian writers to interpret the true aspirations of their countrymen and of all humanity "without bitterness and without passion."

Mrs. Berton also announced the association would help provide books for soldiers during the war, and urged all who had books to contribute to notify the secretary.

An instructive craft talk by Mrs. Robin Breach, secretary, on how to develop the anecdote into a short story was graphically illustrated by the reading of the climax of one of her own stories, "Butter Money," published in Maclean's Magazine.

Members were reminded of Canadian Book Week, November 11 to 18.

Congratulations were extended to Miss Eugenie Perry on her recently-published book of poems, "Hero in Ermine," from which Mrs. Berton read "One Late Rose," and congratulations were also given to Hermia Harris Fraser, who had received the first prize from the Canadian Poetry Magazine.

Announcement was made that the association meetings were held monthly on the third Thursday, and that the poetry, drama and short-story groups met once monthly at the members' homes.

The soloist, Philip Heal, gave pleasure with four songs, "Bois Epais," "Banjo Song," "I Love Life" and May Parker's "The King and Queen in Canada." Miss Audrey Wood was accompanist.

F. J. Merriman, in a talk on "Journalism," contrasted the moving picture version of the hard-drinking, backslapping reporter with no respect for his job or the public, with the alert, reliable type of reporter which newspapers demanded. He briefly described the construction of a newspaper story. Instead of leading to a climax as the fiction story did, a news story should contain all the essential information, answering the questions who, when, where, what, why and how in the first paragraph. A news story should be written to tell busy people all the information they wanted in as few words as possible.

Contrary to some opinions, all newspapers faced the problem of how to get in all the news available, not how to fill the newspaper, and the ability to condense a story yet retain all the facts was a valuable qualification in a news room.

As a link between reporting and authorship, the speaker referred to Steinbeck's "Grapes of Wrath." The book in fiction form was a story of farmers driven from their dust-wrecked farms in the east to fertile California orchards and vineyards, their hopes, the hardships of the journey and their disappointments. It was a combination of news stories that had appeared in newspapers over a period of time combined in one book.

Teachers of Greater Victoria Organize

The organization of the Greater Victoria Teachers' Association for 1939-40 is now complete; the various committees have been selected and the sectional groups are busily studying problems which they meet in their daily classroom work.

The group chairmen and secretaries are as follows: Grades 1 to 3, chairman Miss A. Vye, secretary Miss S. O'Connell; grades 4 to 6, Mr. Ken Ross, Miss C. Murray; grades 7 to 9, Mr. B. Gillie, Miss O. Heritage; grades 10 to 12, Mr. W. L. Hardie, Miss P. Hamilton-Smith.

At the first general meeting of the association, held recently at the Central Junior High School, with the president, Mr. W. McMichael, in the chair, Mr. T. Horne, the membership secretary, explained the new system of enrolment of members, and pointed out that the treasurer, Miss H. E. Stewart, had arranged to be at the Bank of Montreal, corner of Douglas and Yates, at 10 on Saturday mornings to receive membership fees from staff representatives.

Miss I. Thomas was appointed the representative of the association to the University Extention Association.

The following were elected to the Vancouver Island Representative Committee: Miss Ella Cameron, Mr. W. McMichael and Mr. B. Gillie.

A discussion on teachers' pensions took place, and a resolution was passed requesting that the B.C.T.F. pensions committee obtain and disseminate to the members the fullest possible information on the subject.

Alberni Women Organize War Effort

PORT ALBERNI — Throughout Port Alberni and district the voluntary registration of Canadian women is under way. An organization has been formed for the B.C. Service Club which will embrace motor transport, army clerical, first aid and commissary. Under the direction of Mrs. Fred Weaver and Mrs. G. H. Renwick booths were opened for registration and evidence of excellent response is demonstrated by the forming of St. John Ambulance and home nursing classes under the supervision of the public school nurse, Miss J. Leslie.

The recently-formed Jean Neill Chapter of the I.O.D.E., organized to perpetuate the memory of the late Mrs. Jean Neill, pioneer resident and wife of A. W. Neill, M.P., is at work with sewing and knitting and provision of clothing for evacuated children overseas.

An effort is under way to organize a branch of the Red Cross.

Mrs. W. C. Hamilton, wife of the mayor of Port Alberni, was elected president of the B.C. Service Club branch.

Spencer's Remnants to Hold First Ball

Spencer's Remnants, all of whom are ex-service men, will hold their first ball on Friday, October 27, at the Empress Hotel.

Knowing, from first hand, the value of the great work done by the Red Cross in the last war, the Remnants have decided to hand the proceeds of their first ball to the Red Cross Society, and His Honor the Lieutenant-Governor, Premier Pattullo and Mayor McGavin are extending their patronage.

William F. Tickle and his orchestra will play for dancing from 9 till 1, and supper will be served at 11. Tickets for the affair may be obtained of members at Spencer's.

Centennial Church Anniversary

A pleasant evening was spent on Monday evening at Centennial United Church in connection with its 53rd anniversary.

A splendid repast was furnished by the ladies of the church which was enjoyed by nearly 200 persons.

Edward Parsons delighted his listeners with a number of organ solos among which were "Selection from Lohengrin," "The Question? The Answer" (Wolstanholm), "Intermezzo in D Flat" (Hollins).

The Elizabethan Singers, consisting of Miss Dorothy Parsons, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Townsend and Dudley Wickett, sang with great expression and with perfect blend of voices the following numbers, "Brother James Air," "I'm Going to My Lonely Bed," "Ships of Arcady," and a humorous item "Twenty-Eighteen." The two ladies were heard in duet "The Love of a Friend," and Dudley Wickett gave two numbers "To Be Near Thee," and "Tally Ho." Coronet solos "Danny Boy," "Killarney," "Red Devon by the Sea," and "Dedication" (Franz), were pleasingly rendered by George H. E. Green with Mrs. Green at the piano.

A lecture was given by Rev. Andrew D. Reid describing actual experience in listening to the outstanding preachers and statesmen of the Old Land, and giving an interesting study of their characteristics.

Lodge Princess Alexandra No. 18, Daughters of England, will meet on Thursday in the S.O.E. Hall at 8.

"AFTER-40" FATIGUE
may mean you need more VITAMIN G

Eat the New HIGH-VITAMIN Yeast to Get a Rich Extra Supply . . . Feel More Energetic

People in their 40's often "slow down" and "feel old" because they are not getting enough vitamins from their meals—especially the important Vitality Vitamin G!

In Fleischmann's new HIGH-VITAMIN Yeast you get a very rich supply of this essential vitamin—as well as splendid extra amounts of "Cold-Fighting" Vitamin A, and Vitamins B and D.

And in addition, the fresh yeast helps stimulate SLOW DIGESTION—a common trouble after 40. This better digestion helps the body make fuller use of the vitamins you eat. It "BOOSTS" their assimilation—gives more complete results than just vitamins alone.

Begin now to eat 2 cakes of Fleischmann's HIGH-VITAMIN Yeast daily—one cake about ½ hour before breakfast and one ½ hour before supper—plain or in a little water or milk!

Do your half-clean plates shout "FALSE TEETH"?

Keep plates like new with Polident . . . and avoid "Denture Breath"

HALF-CLEAN with brushing

Germs and decay bacteria breed by the million in stains, film and deposits on plates—often cause sore gums, sour-breath and even serious infection.

REALLY CLEAN with POLIDENT

Even worst old stains, film, deposits and odors vanish. Teeth become whiter, brighter—gums look more alive and natural.

Two things can tell everyone your teeth are false—just as surely as if you shouted it—STAINS AND DENTURE BREATH!

But you can prevent both. It's easy to do with Polident. For, as thousands of leading dentists will tell you, Polident changes the cleansing of false teeth from a problem to a pleasure.

This remarkable powder cleans and purifies like new—without brushing, acid or danger. Your plate or bridge will look better and feel better—your mouth fresher—and breath sweeter.

Millions Praise It

People who have false teeth too often suffer from "denture breath"—probably the most offensive of all breath odors. Yet millions have now learned that Polident prevents it—when brushing and soaking in mouth washes often won't!

Try Polident today. 3 oz. size 40¢—7 oz. size 75¢—at any drugstore. And your money back if not delighted.

POLIDENT CLEANS AND PURIFIES

WORKS LIKE MAGIC—NO BRUSHING! Keep plates sweet, clean and purified by doing this daily: Add a little Polident powder to ½ glass water. Stir. Then put in plate or bridge for 10 to 15 minutes. Rinse—and it's ready to use.

Finland's Army Set; Civilians Flee Capital

Ready to fight Russia is Finland's small army. Ready, too, is the Lotta Svard, auxiliary of 42,000 women which takes charge of commissariat, nursing, fund raising for nation's Civil Guard. Here Lotta Svard members feed troopers at field kitchen during recent manoeuvres.

Thousands of women and children evacuate Helsinki (Helsingfors) for north of Finland as Russia masses troops on border, concentrates warships in Gulf of Finland. City gets first air raid blackout practice in history, machine guns are mounted in streets and on buildings while Finnish diplomats confer with Russians at Moscow. This airview of capital was taken from tower of stadium where Olympic Games were scheduled to be held in 1940.

MARTIAN NOTE — What the well-dressed woman will wear in zones where there is danger of air raiders sprinking noxious gases about is demonstrated by this London miss. She is wearing the new light-weight gas-repellent suit of rose pink. Hood, trousers, jumper and mittens of oiled silk can be donned in 35 seconds.

LEARNING THE BUGLE CALS—When this wolfhound hears "Reveille" he'll know it's time to go and waken the boys. At least, that's the hope of this bugler of the 53rd Battery, R.C.A., who is teaching the mascot what the calls mean. He already recognizes the melodious notes which mean, "come to the cookhouse door."

PURIFYING WATER FOR TROOPS—Goodacre Lake in Beacon Hill Park was the scene of action for members of the Royal Canadian Army Medical Corps when they took their water cart there to make water tests. Major Harold Davenport, on the extreme right of the picture, conducted the class and was assisted by several members of the Victoria's medical profession. The 110-gallon tank was filled to capacity and the water tested and purified and made drinkable.

French Women and Children Carry on

Work continues as usual in France these days with women and children replacing men called from industrial and agricultural tasks. This shows a child driving the wagon which takes a family out to the fields to gather in the crop.

DOING THEIR BIT FOR OLD ENGLAND?—Apparently fearing a labor shortage, what with all those men called to the colors, these two chimpanzees seem to be "doing their bit" by helping install new flooring in the London Zoo. Well—anyhow, they "went to work" on the wheelbarrow as soon as the carpenters turned their backs.

WHO SAID "TOO MANY COOKS——?"—Apparently this broth is far from spoiled, for everyone seems to want a taste. Scene is at a British army training in Aldershot, where members of the Women's Auxiliary Training service are trying their hands at cooking in field kitchens. The girls don't seem to mind sampling their own product.

"Somewhere in France" women and children are "carrying on" in place of their able-bodied fathers, husbands and brothers who are under arms. This taken in the fields, shows women and children gathering vegetables while Dobbin with the wagon waits in the background.

VICTIMS ATTEND SLUGGER'S MURDER TRIAL—In Los Angeles court, Delia Bogard, left, actress, and Myrtle Wagner, housemaid, hear prosecution charge that 2x4 plank used in slaying of Anya Sosoyeva, dancer, was almost identical to weapon employed in attacks on themselves. DeWitt Clinton Cook, 20-year-old murder defendant, has pleaded guilty to Bogard and Wagner sluggings.

HEAD BRITAIN'S FORCES—Britain's "big three," heads of the three arms of the service, are conferring often these days as Hitler, his peace offer definitely rejected, is preparing a "blood bath" for the Allies. Shown in London as they leave a meeting, they are Air Marshal Sir Cyril Newall, Admiral of the Fleet Sir Dudley Pound and General Sir Edmund Ironside, chief of the imperial general staff.

EX-AUSTRIAN CHANCELLOR TORTURED BY NAZI JAILERS—Because he steadfastly refuses to call on Austrians to fight for the German "fatherland," Kurt von Schuschnigg, last chancellor of what was Austria, is slowly being beaten to death by uniformed Gestapo members, according to a report from "absolutely authentic sources." Isolated in a Vienna hotel room and stripped naked, he is daily pounded into unconsciousness with rubber truncheons. To stimulate his desire to live, he was allowed to see his loyal wife, the former Countess Vera Fuggar von Babenhausen, who married him by proxy while he was a prisoner of the Nazis.

COMMANDER-IN-CHIEF TOURS BATTLE LINE—General Gamelin, supreme commander of the French fighting forces, is shown here entering a local staff headquarters somewhere on the western front, as he toured French positions on the front.

Will Decide Court Terms

Officials of the Victoria and District Basketball League and the Victoria Sports Centre were scheduled to meet at 5 this afternoon to attempt to reach accord on terms under which the Willows playing court could be used for basketball.

Proposals advanced by W. H. Bland, for the centre, to George Gordon, league president, last night were not regarded favorably by hoop officials today. It was hoped, however, that a settlement might be reached definitely at the evening session.

"We offered for basketball exactly the same proposition as that given for lacrosse," Mr. Bland stated.

That scheme, according to Gordon's interpretation, called for allocation of 5 per cent of the gross gate to the provincial government for amusement tax, 20 per cent to the Sports Centre to cover its lease obligations to the British Columbia Agricultural Association and a 50-50 split on the remaining 75 per cent between the league and the centre. On those terms the league would secure use of the court Wednesday, Friday and Saturday nights, but would be required to pay expenses of visiting teams for exhibition fixtures.

NOT ACCEPTABLE

Gordon voiced the opinion the league could not accept that proposition, since its share of the net gate would be insufficient to conduct its general league activities for the year.

Should the two parties arrive at a mutually satisfactory arrangement tonight, major league games this season would be played at the Willows. Efforts will be continued to see if the High School gym can be secured for junior and girls' games.

The league officials were expected to have alternative plans to lay before the Sport Centre group, but it was thought they would all deal with the problem on the basis that the deduction of 20 per cent for rental charges should be made.

It was believed they would seek a more definite understanding on the split on the net gate for regular league fixtures and might ask some method of having Sports Centre and league interests share exhibition game expenses. One proposal that received some support would have the club representing Victoria in an exhibition against an outside team meet the guarantee required by the visiting squad out of a 50-50 split on the net returns. That, of course, would be subject to revision again where tourists make their arrangements on the basis of a percentage out of the gate.

League officials hoped tonight to reach a definite understanding on the Willows court in order that they might proceed without delay in completing pre-season arrangements.

Sports Mirror

IT MAY PAY to be patriotic if you wish to wager a couple of bob on tomorrow's champions' charity golf exhibition. Bud Ward is United States amateur champion and Ken Tucker is P.N.W. pro title holder for the current year. But in addition to facing two Canadians whose games are exceptional, the U.S. boys will be playing a pair who know the Oak Bay links like a book. Ken Black, Vancouver's Canadian amateur champion, has played frequently at the Victoria Club course. And Phil Taylor, home club pro, is almost personally acquainted with each blade of grass on the layout.

It ought to be a great exhibition. If the crowds turn out as they should, the Red Cross will receive a fine increase in its funds.

It cost a dozen or so of Victoria's young business men, chiefly members of the Revellers Club, about $400 to outfit Victoria's entry in the Big Four Canadian rugby league. That money may be a donation from those men. At present, it looks as if it will be. The club, owing to its constitution, could not make the grant in a lump sum. It was permitted, however, to advance the money on notes signed by the individual sponsors. Those sponsors pay back the loan on a dollar-a-month basis. When and if the football club comes into funds, the boys may be reimbursed. But at present they are counting heavily on the gate Saturday to provide running expenses for the rest of the season. In addition to the initial $400 outlay, there is an operating cost of approximately $30 a month.

Should the team finish in funds, the money will be converted into equipment for juniors to encourage the game among younger boys. Those who underwrote the main loan hope to see some missionary work in that field next year.

You have to take your hats off to a bunch of young men who'll underwrite a team like that. There was nothing in it for them except a chance to assist a sport to find a root here.

So when you go to the Athletic Park to cheer the team along on Saturday, reserve at least one mental bouquet for the fellows who financed it.

Victoria's pedal-pushing Gordy Bell and Gar Warren made a big hit in San Jose bike riding circles, according to a letter from H. Banderob, president of the California city's bicycle racing association, recently received by George Robinson, secretary of the local group.

Bell and Karren spent a week in the Garden City taking part in a celebration racing meet and on their return brought a quartette of San Jose riders who thrilled the local followers of the sport at the Douglas Street cycledrome.

This was the first exchange of riders attempted between the two cities and officials both here and there are anxious to continue the practice.

The letter to Robinson read in part: "We, at San Jose, will be more than happy to exchange riders with you again next year. Our season opens in May and continues through September. We hold a meet every Friday night. We have some "dandy" riders down here and if your riders are comparable to Gordon Bell and Gar Warren, we are sure your boys can give ours real competition.

"Your boys were real gentlemen, courteous, co-operative and a credit to the game. When next season rolls around, we want these two boys back among the group.

"Our boys have nothing but the highest praise for the treatment they received in Victoria. Next season should be a profitable one for us both."

ROBIN WOOD WINS

Robin Wood won the weekly handicap of the Pacific Swimming Club last night in the Crystal Garden when he beat Bob McNeill to the finish line by a stroke. Reg. Winter was third. The event was the second of a series of 10 for the G. B. Murdie Cup.

PHIL TAYLOR

PLAY TOMORROW

While throngs in Vancouver followed the amateur champions of Canada and the United States around the Point Grey Golf and Country Club course today as Ken Black, Vancouver, played Marvin "Bud" Ward, Spokane, arrangements were being completed here for tomorrow's big exhibition.

The match at the Oak Bay golf links, scheduled to start at 2, will pit Black and Phil Taylor against Ward and Ken Tucker, Everett, P.N.W. pro champion.

Tickets were reported to be finding a ready sale and the crowd will probably exceed expectations if the weather is fine. They can be secured up to the time of the game from various golf clubs in the city, from service clubs and Red Cross centres. Proceeds will be turned over to the Red Cross.

English Rugby

Early Training For 'Reps' Urged

That the Victoria Rugby Union is determined to meld a strong representative team to defend the British Columbia championship the Crimson Tide captured last year was clearly indicated at last night's weekly meeting when union delegates urged early training of the "Rep" unit.

The union's "rep" selection committee, team manager and coach will be selected at the next meeting, Monday night next, at 5.15.

Arthur Cox's suggestion that senior team managers get their charges out for practice as soon as possible so as to give "rep" players on their line-ups every chance to get into top condition for the opening of the McKechnie Cup campaign, brought promises from the two delegate managers present to attend to this.

FOUR TEAMS ENTERED

Four entries, two in the senior and a like number in the intermediate division, were filed at the meeting. In senior company J.B.A.A. and Oak Bay Wanderers are ready to go into action and Victoria College and Wanderers have intermediate squads ready for play. The union, however, hopes to get three-team leagues and therefore left the filing of applications open until Monday, October 23.

In the event third teams cannot be secured for the divisions, the recommendation of the special committee that the teams in the leagues play every other week, will probably be carried out. Exhibition games with the army and navy could be arranged for the weeks when games were not scheduled. The committee was composed of Bob Wallace, chairman; Bob McInnes and Campbell Forbes.

Jack Ruttan, vice-president, who presided at the meeting, was chosen to make plans for the Armistice Day game. He will find out whether the army and navy teams will be available for their annual battle that day, and if not he will take immediate steps to bring over the Vancouver Rowing Club for their intercity game with the Victoria J.B.A.A. The rowing clubs meet anually in a sudden-death game for the Arthur Cox Trophy, at present held by the mainland fifteen.

Bob Wallace reported he was trying to arrange a game between Victoria College and Brentwood College for Saturday. If the game is arranged it will be played at Brentwood at 3.

Boxing

Name Ref for Seattle Bout

SEATTLE, Wash. — Benny Leonard, undefeated lightweight champion of the world, will referee the 15-round welterweight championship match here Friday night at the Civic Auditorium between Henry Armstrong and Richie Fontaine.

The Washington State Athletic Commission has personally invited Leonard to come from New York to act as the third man in the ring at the important struggle, Nate Druxman's opening winter attraction.

TO FIGHT PACHO

DENVER (AP) — Promoter Jack Kanner announced last night welterweight champion Henry Armstrong and Bobby Pacho of Los Angeles would box 15 rounds here October 30. It will be a title bout, provided Armstrong beats Richie Fontaine in Seattle Friday.

Pacho lost to Armstrong last winter at Havana, Cuba.

GARCIA BOUT IN LINE

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Manager George Parnassus yesterday announced his "bolo-punching" Filipino, Ceferino Garcia, will defend his middleweight honors in Los Angeles, February 22, against Henry Armstrong, ruler of the world's welterweight ranks.

Cahrlie McDonald, matchmaking maestro of the American Legion's Hollywood Stadium, will promote the affair.

Parnassus also said Garcia would defend the 160-pound title in his Manila, P.I., homeland December 16 against Glen Lee of Nebraska.

Two-thirds of Poland was under Russian rule before the first World War.

Hockey

Wings Solve Defence

DETROIT (CP) — Defence plans of Detroit Red Wings were clear today after Manager Jack Adams announced sale of Doug Young to Pittsburgh Hornets. The Wings likely will enter the National Hockey League season with a pair of reformed forwards as one defence pair and two crashing huskies as the other.

Young was sold along with Johnny Sherf, Michigan player, to the Wings' former farm club, Pittsburgh, for cash. The amount was not disclosed.

Capt. Ebbie Goodfellow likely will be teamed with Alex Motter as one defence unit. Motter, usually plays centre, but Manager Jack Adams thinks he will do better as a defenceman.

Goodfellow, who as centre led the old International League in scoring in 1928, has been a defenceman since 1933.

Buck Jones and Scotty Bowman are expected to pair as another rearguard.

LEAFS FORM LINE

ST. CATHERINES, Ont. (CP)—Coach Dick Irvin is half-counting on a forward line of Billy (The Kid) Taylor, Sweeney Schriner and Gus Marker for the National Hockey League season and there is every reason to believe this trio will work together for the Maple Leafs.

When the Leafs came to training camp here this week, Irvin said he had no idea what his forward-line combinations would be. The only thing he would say was that Schriner, obtained by Toronto this year in a trade with New York Americans, would not play on a line with Syl Apps and Gordie Drillon.

But it got talked around that Irvin was hoping he could make a great unit of the Alberta veterans, Schriner and Marker, and the 20-year-old Taylor, who played with Oshawa's Dominion junior champions last season. When the grey-haired coach first drew up attacking lines for practice yesterday, the three were together.

In a swift two-hour drill, Taylor made plays for Calgary's sharpshooting Schriner and the bustling little Mr. Marker, who was born in Camrose, Alta.

They didn't score as often as some other lines, but there was no question about the general pleasure at the potentialities the new trio showed. Marker was enthusiastic.

TAKE SPOKANE OPTION

SEATTLE (AP)—Phil Lycette, owner of the Seattle team in the Pacific Coast Hockey League, announced yesterday he had taken an option on the Spokane club's players and expected to transfer several of them to his Seahawk roster.

Lycette said at the same time he would protest the sale of Connie King, high-scoring ace of the Spokane lineup, to the Tulsa Oilers of the American Association. The sale was announced yesterday.

HAWKS INCREASE ROSTER

HIBBING, Minn. (CP)—Manager Paul Thompson selected six more players yesterday for his Chicago Black Hawks hockey squad, running to nine the number chosen for the National League season's opener in Chicago November 2.

The six named were Bill Carse and George Allen, both recruited from Philadelphia Ramblers, and four regulars of 1939—Art Wiebe, Bill Thoms, Earl Siebert and Cully Dahlstrom. Thompson already has selected rookie Phil Hergesheimer and veterans Mush March and Johnny Gottselig as team members.

AMERKS REBUILDING

PORT ARTHUR (CP)—Manager Mervyn (Red) Dutton of New York Americans, rebuilding the National Hockey League club from what he considers the greatest collection of talent he has ever assembled, yesterday announced he had signed veteran defenceman Al Murray and rookie Chuck Shannon.

Centre Art Chapman, goalie Earl Robertson and defenceman Wilf Field and Pat Egan were signed previously. Egan played last year with Seattle Seahawks in the Pacific Coast League.

Manager Ted Menzies' Victoria All-star lacrosse team, which will oppose Powell River, B.C., intermediate champions, in an exhibition game Saturday night at the Willows Sports Centre, will hold a workout this evening at 8 in the Sports Centre. Following players are asked to be on hand: A. McKim, C. Chapman, A. Chapman, R. Clarke, N. Baker, R. Baker, Ovcharock, J. Pickford, W. Williams, B. Brown, Pridham, McSween, Wallace and Carney

Bill Bird Cops Caddies' Crown

The kingpin of Victoria's caddy golfers of 1939 is Bill Bird, Uplands' bag-toting ace.

Bird won the coveted title yesterday when he defeated A. Walker 5 and 3 in the 18-hole final of the annual tournament at the Uplands yesterday.

The new champion went around in 81 in the final, while his opponent used up four more strokes. Twice Walker ran into stymies which cost him holes and on another occasion he muffed a short putt.

In the semifinals Bird eliminated Roy Clements, 3 and 2, while Walker won from D. Gallop, 2 and 1.

BANQUET HELD FOR STEVEDORES' TEAM

The Victoria Longshoremen's Association softball team was honored at a banquet held by the association in the V.L.A. Hall last evening with nearly 160 present.

Guests at the banquet were R. W. Mayhew, M.P., Mrs. H. P. Hodges, Captain William Crawford, Vancouver, head of the Empire Stevedoring Company, who acted as chairman, and Mr. and Mrs. F. O. Murray. Mr Murray is the Victoria superintendent of the Empire Stevedoring Company.

Mr. Mayhew and Mrs. Hodges addressed the gathering following the banquet. Mr. Mayhew was glad to see such keen interest being taken by the local longshoremen in their union. Both themselves and the organizations which employed them, would benefit through such interest.

Every man whether in active service or civilian life was called upon today to do his job better than ever before, Mr. Mayhew continued.

Mrs. Hodges explained the scheme for voluntary registration of Canadian women in helping during the war. There were a number of women present at the banquet.

The scheme was in no way an attempt to conscript womanhood, Mrs. Hodges emphasized. It was a scheme to estimate the potential woman power of the Dominion.

Jack Lackie, manager of the association softball team, spoke briefly with reference to the team's success last season, and he assured Mr. Mayhew that the longshoremen's union was without prejudice, and was ready to co-operate in any policy that the Dominion Government introduced.

DUNCAN GOLF

DUNCAN — Newly-appointed committee of the Cowichan Golf Club, meeting on Monday evening, elected Mrs. T. Boyd Gilmour and Richard Christmas to membership. Thursday, November 2, was selected as the date for the distribution of prizes. Weather permitting, mixed foursomes will precede the prize-giving. Play for the "Bundock" Cup, emblematic of the club handicap championship, will start October 29. Only one handicap was changed, that of A. S. Irvine, from 10 to 11. The president appointed the following committees: Greens, A. E. P. Stubbs and F. R. Gooding; finance, F. G. Aldersey and Dr. V. W. Tarlton; match and competitions, H. C. Hanson and Dr. G. K. Hobson.

Rowe Back in Scoring Lead

WINNIPEG (CP)—Paul Rowe, great plunging backfielder, who came to Calgary Bronks from Victoria by way of University of Oregon, has a 13-point lead on the field with 53 points in the Western Interprovincial Football Union individual scoring race.

Rowe plunged for a touchdown and kicked a field goal at Regina, Saturday, as Bronks lost to Roughriders, 12 to 11, to bring his season's total in 10 games to eight touchdowns, one field goal and 10 converts from placement.

Andy Bieber of Winnipeg Blue Bombers was held scoreless last week, but retained second place with eight touchdowns for 40 points. Three other Bombers, Greg Kabat, Wayne Sheley and Jeff Nicklin, hold the next three positions with 31 points each, while Howard Cleveland's two touchdowns for Regina, Saturday, gave him the sixth spot, with 26.

Toar Springstein of Regina has 23, while Fritz Hanson climbed into the first 10 Saturday as he scored all three touchdowns when Bombers beat Edmonton Eskimos, 18 to 1. Hanson is tied at 20 with Bob Fritz of Edmonton. Lynn Warren, Calgary, has 15 points.

Grid Player Joins Navy at Esquimalt

TORONTO (CP)—James N. (Bee) Rowland, University of Toronto football player, who has joined the Canadian navy, doesn't think the game is so important "when your country is at war." Rowland, Royal Military College graduate, who spent four peacetime summers with the Navy at Halifax, entered the University of Toronto last year on a mining engineering scholarship. Rowland will join the Navy at Esquimalt.

Each Victor In Section Of Big Race

NEWMARKET, Eng. (CP Cable)—Mrs. H. Leader's Gryoscope and the Marquess of Dufferin's Orichalque today won the first and second sections, respectively, of the Cambridgeshire handicap which was run in two parts, with the purse split, because of the large field.

Gyroscope, a three-year-old colt by Sir Walter Raleigh out of Girasole, finished the mile course with a drive to beat out His Highness by a neck with Hot Bun II third, four lengths behind.

The three horses were held at 100 to 6 in a field of 27.

In the second section Orichalque, a six-year-old horse by Pinceau out of Mine d'Or, won by one length from Quartier Maitre with Never Surprised third, 1½ lengths further back. Quartier Maitre, owned by Mrs. A. Bendir, was quoted at 100 to 8 and Never Surprised at 20 to 1 while the winner returned 25 to 1. Twenty-seven ran.

The race, originally scheduled for October 11, was cut from the usual 1⅛ miles and switched to the July course as the regular winter circuit is being used for war purposes. It was necessary to run the event in two divisions because of the large entry field which was left almost intact when the customary acceptance regulations were foregone.

TABLE TENNIS

One-sided scores featured first division table tennis league matches played in the Crystal Garden last evening. MacDonald Electric hammered out a 22 to 14 triumph over Liberty Cafe, while Renfrew Brothers made their record read two straight with a 25 to 11 win over All-Stars. Pitzer and Nex scored a similar victory over Murphy Electrons.

Canada Unready For War, Says Drew

TORONTO (CP) — Public confidence is vital to successful prosecution of the war, Lieut.-Col. George A. Drew, leader of the Conservative Party in Ontario, said in a statement today.

"The only way that public confidence can be restored in Canada is for the Department of National Defence to admit frankly that we are unready for war, and explain to the public with the utmost candor what steps are being taken to train and equip our troops," he said.

His statement was issued in connection with the series of radio broadcasts inaugurated last night by the Department of National Defence.

Lieut.-Col. Drew described as "a strange conception of responsible government" the use of an unidentified spokesman for the broadcasts. He said Hon. Norman Rogers, defence minister, was the only person who "had any right to speak for the Department of National Defence."

He said the spokesman had given the impression that when the war began defence preparations immediately proceeded on a plan which had been drawn up in advance. "That is not so," he declared. "Mr. Rogers knows better than anyone else it is not so."

18 ARRESTED AFTER BRIEF 'SIT-DOWN'

VANCOUVER (CP)—Eighteen single unemployed men, arrested last night as they left provincial relief offices here after a six-hour "sit-down" strike, were remanded by Magistrate H. S. Wood to Monday for trial on vagrancy charges.

A larger number of men entered the office yesterday afternoon and requested some form of relief assistance, refusing to leave when officials said it would be impossible to grant them relief immediately. The men were arrested as they left the building of their own violation last night after remaining inside for six hours.

Mayor Lyle Telford addressed the men and they obeyed his request to leave the offices. As they went into the street they submitted peacefully to arrest.

New Commander For Fortresses

Appointment of Col. A. V. Tremaine as fortress commander for the Victoria area was announced at military headquarters today.

Col. Tremaine arrived here Monday from Regina to take over his new duties. He was formerly in command of the garrison artillery here.

Col. Tremaine takes over the post formerly held by Col. R. L. Fortt, who has been relieved from duty because of illness.

The announcement from Ottawa that Royal Canadian Mounted Police will take over anti-sabotage guard duties will not affect the status of the former local militiamen who have been handling this precautionary work, Brigadier J. S. Stewart, D.O.C. for the district, said today.

The Brigadier said the Canadian Scottish and others on guard duty will continue intact and pursue their training.

Brigadier Stewart said that all men in the active service units have taken attestations for overseas service if required, regardless of whether their units are listed for inclusion in the first division. This applies to the Scottish, the 5th Brigade and other units. Only the Princess Pats are definitely slated now for the first division.

VICTORIA BRITISH-ISRAEL ASSOCIATION

T. E. Jolly addressed a crowded meeting of the Victoria British-Israel Association in the Y. M. C.A. hall on Tuesday night. His subject was "The Great Pyramid and the U.S.A."

The speaker proved from Pyramid Chronology and Bible prophecy that the U.S. was the tribe of Mannassah, and mentions how one of the two obelisques set up in the city of Om at the time of the birth of Joseph's sons, Ephraim and Manassah, was in the U.S., the other in England, and that the U.S. would finally join with Ephrain-Britain to overcome the domination of Satan, and usher in the Kingdom of God on earth.

A dinner meeting of the Engineering Institute of Canada will be held next Monday evening at 6.45, at Spencer's. Professor H. W. McKiel, president of the Engineering Institute of Canada, will be accompanied by L. Austin Wright, general secretary of the institute. Professor McKiel is making an annual tour of the western branches of the institute.

A Charlie McCarthy act will be one of the top events in tonight's show of the "Arf a Mo" concert party at the Army and Navy Veterans' Club-rooms. Starring in the skit are George Ford and A. Jacklin. George Ingledew will be heard in some of his character impersonations. Ray Hunt is scheduled to appear in some of his latest steps. Joe Dobbie, the Scotch comedian, will sing. Others appearing include Cecil Boulter, H. C. Jones, Ted Bragge, W. Fletcher, A. Jackman, Doug. Park and Sid Chiverall. The concert will commence at 8.15.

Canadians Join Ranks in Britain

By EDWIN JOHNSON

LONDON (CP) — The special concession of granting Canadian volunteers arriving in England at their own expense either an immediate commission in the British forces or the privilege of entering an officers' training unit will be discontinued.

In future commissions will be given in the United Kingdom only to men who have first served in the ranks. Canadians and candidates from other Dominions will be eligible, however, for immediate enlistment in the ranks.

Although short service commissions in the Royal Air Force were suspended at the outbreak of the war, it was announced that special consideration would be given to Canadians who had reached the country before September 3.

On the outbreak of hostilities a number of Canadians gave up their jobs and hastened to England to offer their services. The majority discovered there was no place for them under the scheme of gradual and methodical mobilization of the nation's manpower.

To Insure All Soldiers

TORONTO (CP) — Thomas L. Church, M.P., Toronto Broadview, said today he had forwarded to the clerk of the House of Commons notice of motion of a proposed resolution asking governmental study and action toward providing a system of life insurance on all Canadian soldiers.

The scheme would embrace soldiers who enlist for active service or in any expeditionary force during the period of the war.

U.S. Arms Sales Ban

WASHINGTON (AP) — Democratic sponsors of the United States neutrality bill were reported this afternoon to have agreed on a new provision prohibiting the sale of arms on credit to private interests within a nation at war.

VICTORIAN HONORED IN SOUTH—Victoria's publicity commissioner, George I. Warren, looks as though he was taken aback with surprise in the above picture when Major O. J. Keating, director of special events of the Golden Gate International Exposition, left, officially named him "Mayor of Treasure Island" for last Saturday. This ceremony took place at the 19th annual Redwood Empire Association convention luncheon on Treasure Island dedicated to the press, travel and transportation groups, at which Mr. Warren represented Victoria.

Sightseeing Men See Commission

The Public Utilities Commission today called into an informal conference operators of sightseeing vehicles and other transportation service catering to tourists to discuss the full enforcement of government regulations governing them.

Dr. W. A. Carrothers, chairman, said the commission plans to give full effect to regulations under part four of the Highway Act, and arranged the conference to iron out difficulties within the business. A firm basis for the regulations was discussed, as well as means of carrying them out.

Rates, methods of advertising, passenger loads and other factors of the business came up for discussion. No formal announcement was made after the meeting, which was held at the Legislative Buildings with a number of large transportation firms represented.

Try to Wreck B.C. Electric Train

CHILLIWACK, B.C. (CP)—British Columbia Electric Railway Company officials said today two railway ties had been placed across rails near Sardis, about five miles south of Chilliwack, in an unsuccessful attempt to derail a Vancouver-bound electric interurban train last night.

It was the third derailing attempt made in the past two months in the Sardis district.

Motorman W. J. Miller sighted the ties on the tracks and was able to stop in time.

Body of Hunter Found

ABBOTSFORD, B.C. (CP) — Ralph Fluegel, 21-year-old hunter of nearby Aldergrove, B.C., was found dead by searchers today, apparently shot through the heart when his gun accidentally discharged, British Columbia Police report.

The body of the youth, who left his home Monday on a lone deer hunting trip, was found lying alongside an old log, his gun at the feet.

Soviet Propaganda Floods Into Estonia

MOSCOW (AP)—Soviet Russia today began to send troops into Estonia, implementing terms of the mutual assistance pact which gave Russia three bases in the tiny Baltic state.

Reports in the Moscow press prior to the march of the troops into Estonia said they were taking Soviet books and films and even typesetting machines, presumably for printing Soviet propaganda.

LONDON (CP)—A Geneva dispatch to the Daily Mail today quoted a conversation in Rome regarding Italy's neutrality in which King Victor Emmanuel told a confidante "as long as I am head of the House of Savoy, Italy will not take up arms against France."

Young Liberals See Motion Films

Through the courtesy of C. R. D. Ferris of the B.C. Government Travel Bureau interesting and educational motion pictures were enjoyed last evening at the regular meeting of the 20th Century Young Liberal Association of Victoria at Liberal headquarters. The scenes included trail riding on the "high" and "low" trails of the world-famed Yoho Park, "Grey Owl," the Indian naturalist, Highland games in Victoria and the Tyee fishing competition off Campbell River.

Congratulations were extended to R. W. Fairclough, secretary, and Miss Edna Foulds, corresponding secretary, on their forthcoming marriage, which will take place before the next meeting of the club. The meeting also adopted the motion that it would decline the offer of membership in the Democratic Rights Movement, recently formed in this city.

Bureau Plans New Publicity Service

Organization of a new branch of the British Columbia Travel Bureau, which will supply a publicity news service on the doings of tourists in the province was announced today by Major Gordon Smith, director.

The new service, he said, will work in co-operation with local tourist bureaus, board of trade and owners and managements of resorts and similar places.

The purpose of it is to secure items of interest about the doings of visitors and occurrences in which they play a part. Through the bureau these will be used for publicity purposes, particularly in the home-town papers of the visitors. Photographs will be used in conjunction with the scheme and the bureau will act as a clearing house.

Major Smith said the service is an extension of the direct advertising and publicity plans of the bureau for the coming year.

In Police Court

6 Months for Hitting Officer

Peter Bong, Chinese, who pleaded guilty in the City Police Court to a charge of assaulting a middle-aged house officer at the Empress Hotel, was sentenced to six months' imprisonment by Magistrate Hall this morning.

"It would appear that you brutally and unwarrantedly assaulted a man engaged in carrying out his normal duties. . . . You are fortunate a more serious charge was not laid against you," the magistrate said.

The house officer testified Bong set upon him with a large screw driver while he was making his nightly rounds of the hotel.

A sailor who pleaded guilty to a charge of dangerous driving was fined $15. Three motorists were fined $5 each for speeding in the restricted zone on Pandora Avenue and two were fined $2.50 each for parking violations.

SALVATION ARMY ESTABLISHES HUT

The Salvation Army's first Red Shield Hut to be established on the island for the benefit of men in active service during the present war was officially opened this afternoon at the Otter Point station.

Major E. C. Henderson, officer in charge at Otter Point, opened the hut. Adjutant C. Watt of the Salvation Army, who was mainly responsible for the establishing of the hut, also took part in the ceremonies.

The work of the Salvation Army at Otter Point was done on invitation by Brigadier J. C. Stewart, O.C., Military District No. 11.

The hut provides reading and writing facilities for the men. Fifteen hundred books were loaned by the provincial government for a library and the Salvation Army has provided comfortable furniture, special writing paper, ink and pens.

The Salvation Army established a large number of Red Shield Huts for men in active service during the last war. The Otter point hut is one of many that have been organized throughout Canada since the start of the present conflict.

Jack Green of the Salvation Army has been appointed in charge of the hut.

Pinned to Death

DIED

STUBBS—There crossed the Great Divide at the family residence, 3161 Fifth Street, at an early hour on Wednesday morning, Lieut. Isaac Harold Stubbs, aged 52 years. The late Lieut. Stubbs was born in Staffordshire, England, and enlisted for overseas service with the C.M.R. of Medicine Hat, Alberta. He is mourned by his widow, one sister, Mrs. Gertrude Bottely of Vancouver. His mother passed away in Vancouver on Sunday and the funeral was held in that city this morning.

The funeral will take place on Friday afternoon from McCall Brothers' Funeral Home at 2 o'clock. Rev. O. L. Jull will conduct the service, after which interment will be made in Colwood Burial Park.

Finer Musical Quality

FOR 26 years Stromberg-Carlson have been manufacturers of fine acoustical instruments, and Stromberg-Carlson Radios embody features for the improvement of tonal brilliance not found in any other set. The Acoustical Labyrinth gives true music tones instead of the "empty barrel" boom so common in many radios. Stromberg-Carlson's Carpinchoe Leather Speaker is another exclusive feature providing more sensitive reception. Stromberg-Carlson prices are no higher than other radios. Cabinets are strikingly beautiful.

United Church Moderator

Declares Faith Undestroyable

"The present civilization may pass away but it is beyond the power of the sinful, selfish man to destroy the possession of faith which is held by the true Christian."

These were the words of Dr. John W. Woodside, Toronto, moderator of the United Church of Canada, in a sermon before members of the United Church in Victoria and others at the Metropolitan Church last evening.

"In these days of fear it is only right that we should think of our security," he said. "But our gravest possession — faith — can never be taken from us."

Faith in God could never be destroyed. Men might hate and kill each other as they were doing in Europe today, yet a sense of underlying unity of faith in God by Christian people would be kept alive.

Faith in man would never be lost. Dr. Woodside admitted, though, that it was easy to lose faith in man when "we look at the ghastly horrors of the world today." Also faith in the future would be with all Christians ever.

A devotional service was held prior to the sermon. Those who took part from the platform were: Dr. A. Reid of Centennial United Church, Rev. William Allen of Wilkinson Road United Church and president of the Victoria Presbytery, Rev. T. G. Griffiths of St. Aidan's United Church, and Rev. A. E. Whitehouse of the Metropolitan Church.

Miss Dorothy Parsons sang a solo, accompanied by the church organist, Edward Parsons.

In a letter to ministers of the United Church throughout the Dominion, Dr. Woodside pointed out the work as their wartime duties.

"It is our task to reaffirm our faith in the God and Father of our Lord Jesus Christ—that God who is the God of the end; and thus keep alive in our people a sense of the unseen and indestructible spiritual values," the letter read.

"We must affirm ourselves and our brethren," it continued, "the paramount authority of conscience under the leadership of Christ. We are at war with a power which seems to disregard conscience and we must not fall into what we hold to be its error. We must not deny our share in the common sin of mankind, but we believe that at this moment we are opposing ideas that are manifestly evil. All the more we must keep our standards high. Let us therefore search the Scriptures and seek guidance of the Holy Spirit that we may determine our own attitude and so lead our people."

VICTORIA NORTH GUIDES

The meeting of the Third Victoria North Guides Association was held yesterday at the home of Mrs. J. Brown, Hampton Road, being well attended by interested parents of Guides and Brownies, Capt. Wilkinson and Tawny Owl D. Le Vach being present.

The annual donation was sent to the local association for the upkeep of the Sooke campsite. Plans were made to assist the Guides and Brownies in their quilting and knitting useful articles for Red Cross work, clothes, woolens, etc., having been collected for this purpose.

A court whist card game will be held Saturday, October 28 at 8.15 p.m. in the Scout Hall, Glasgow Avenue. Good prizes and refreshments. Members and friends invited. The next meeting will be held Tuesday, November 21, at the home of Mrs. Barker, 986 Tattersall Drive.

Voices of 8,000 birds on Catalina Island bird farms were recorded for group and solo effects for use in a recent moving picture musical.

Power Calls Duplessis Arrogant Adventurer

QUEBEC (CP)—The leaders of Quebec's three major political parties swung their election campaigning into highest gear today—the day nominations closed—after a comparatively quiet night in which Premier Maurice Duplessis, Union Nationale Government head, was idle.

While the Premier took the night off from speech-making, Liberal Leader Adelard Godbout spoke at Granby, an industrial town 50 miles southwest of Montreal, and Paul Gouin, head of the Action Liberale Nationale, addressed gatherings at Montmagny and Ste. Ann de Beaupre.

The night, fairly inactive in comparison with recent ones, also found Hon. C. G. Power, Postmaster-General, continuing the campaign of federal Quebec ministers on behalf of the provincial Liberals. The Postmaster-General, speaking from Quebec City, delivered an address over the provincial network of the Canadian Broadcasting Corporation.

Mr. Power, speaking in French and English, charged that Premier Duplessis asked repudiation of a "pact" undertaken by Dominion ministers from the province in which they pledged Quebec's support to Canada's war efforts. Mr. Power asserted that if Quebec electors "do not support our attitude in the circumstances, you will live again the sombre days of 1917 with all that implies by way of nightmare and anguish."

RIGHTS SAFEGUARDED

The federal minister called Quebec "the first of Canada's provinces—first by occupation, first by culture and first by its support of Confederation," and added that under the British North America Act "the rights and privileges—the language, the religion, the traditions of our province—have been safeguarded and maintained."

He asked: "Are the rights and privileges to be sacrificed to the caprices, the ambition and vanity of an arrogant political adventurer?"

Mr. Power, M.P. for Quebec South, said that "we want to know, we will insist on knowing what Duplessis did with the hundreds of millions of dollars given him by the federal authorities for the benefit of the blind; millions given him for the old-age pensions and the poor of Quebec."

The federal minister then added that "we want to know . . . what became of the millions of dollars turned over to the province of Quebec by the federal government to remedy the unemployment crisis during the last three years."

INDUSTRY DISTURBED

Mr. Godbout, who left after his address at Granby for his home constituency of L'Islet, charged Premier Duplessis "has alienated industrial interests" and "unsettled industry by intervening in its affairs with legislative control measures."

The Liberal leader asserted that industrial leaders "do not know from day to day what regulations, what levies, what demands, will be made upo nthem," nor do they "know today what wages they will be called upon to pay their employees next week."

The Premier, Mr. Godbout charged, tells the English-speaking people of the province that "conscription, participation and assimilation are not issues in the campaign, yet in French-speaking sections he tells French electors just the contrary."

Charging that the Union Nationale administration in three years had raised the provincial debt from $130,000,000 to "more than $400,000,000," the Liberal head said there was "nothing to show for it now." He admitted some money had been spent on roads, but said that highways built by the Liberals previous to 1936 "have been neglected and are falling into the worst state of disrepair in the past 10 years."

QUEBEC BANK URGED

Paul Gouin, speaking at Ste. Anne de Beaupre, about 20 miles below Quebec City, advocated the creation of a provincial bank as the solution for what he termed Quebec's difficulties.

The A.L.N. leader said Mr. Duplessis, in raising the question of provincial autonomy in the Quebec election campaign, had declared all credit sources were closed to the province because of Dominion war expenditures but had "offered no remedy to the situation."

Mr. Gouin charged Premier Duplessis "only two months ago declared he was opposed to the idea of a provincial bank" although it was the only solution to bringing about a balanced budget.

The question of autonomy had been brought into the campaign by the Premier, the A.L.N. head claimed, because the Premier wanted "the people to forget his forgotten promises, his service to the trusts and his financial administration of the province."

In an address earlier in the day at Montmagny, below Quebec, Mr. Gouin called both the Union Nationale and Liberal parties "tools of the financial trusts." He said also, in referring to a stand taken by the Dominion cabinet ministers representing Quebec on the outcome of the election October 25, that he did not believe Rt. Hon. Ernest Lapointe, Minister of Justice, and Hon. P. J. A. Cardin, Minister of Public Works, would resign if the Liberals are not elected.

Mr. Godbout will join Hon. Joseph Bilodeau, Minister of Trade, Commerce and Municipal Affairs in the Unional Nationale government, in a contradictory meeting tonight at St. Jean Port-Joli, on the south shore of the St. Lawrence River about 60 miles below Quebec.

Mr. Gouin went to Chicoutimi and Roberval in the Lake St. John district to speak today. Premier Duplessis will address a meeting in Quebec City tonight.

SIDE GLANCES By Galbraith

"I wouldn't rely too much on your father to help you with your arithmetic. He hired a man to make out his income tax."

TO PLAY MONDAY — Pictured above is the young violin wizard, Ossy Renardy, who will appear in joint concert with Rose Bampton, leading soprano of the Metropolitan Opera Company, on Monday, in the Royal Victoria Theatre. This outstanding event is the first on the Hilker Attractions series of subscription concerts. Ticket sale is now open at Fletcher Bros. Music Store, 1130 Douglas St.

OAK BAY THEATRE

The Columbia sound department accomplished the most difficult task in Hollywood history when it successfully recorded the dialogue for Howard Hawks' new production, "Only Angels Have Wings," which stars Cary Grant and Jean Arthur at the Oak Bay Theatre. Most of the dialogue had to be recorded above the roar of airplane motors and tropical tempests, with many of the scenes, filmed in the air, requiring an entirely unorthodox system of sound apparatus.

COLUMBIA THEATRE

Tyrone Power and Henry Fonda showed tourists at the summer resort town of Noel, Missouri, a thing or two about aquaplaning during a location trip to Pineville, to film Darryl F. Zanuck's "Jesse James," the 20th Century-Fox technicolor production, which is now at the Columbia Theatre.

A comparatively large Ozark stream, known as Elk River, which flows through the town, was the scene of the boys' acquatic prowess, and hundreds of fans lined the banks to watch the stars at play.

PROTECTION WORK PROGRESS NOTED

Progress of the local Civilian Protection Committee's work was reported at a meeting held in the headquarters, Arcade Building, yesterday afternoon with a statement submitted on the amount of equipment that had been granted from Ottawa.

First aid and auxiliary equipment would be sent to the organization in the near future. The chairman, Captain Wm. Ellis, noted that there was a shortage of fire-fighting equipment in the district, in the case of emergency.

The question of alarms in the case of air raids was discussed and a committee was appointed to bring immediate action on the subject.

Greater Victoria had been divided into five major sections and 16 subdivisions, it was reported. Wardens for the subdivisions were being appointed.

It was agreed that the district, Royal View, should be included in the metropolitan area and also that the provincial government be asked to donate $200 to the committee for its work.

Mass practices such as blackouts, when the organization work of the committee had been completed, would not be called.

'CHIPS' HELD OVER AT THE ATLAS

"Goodbye, Mr. Chips," James Hilton's charming novel of the life of an English school teacher, is now playing at the Atlas Theatre. It brings to audiences, following his triumph in "The Citadel," Robert Donat, together with Greer Garson, beautiful English actress.

Third of the pictures filmed in M-G-M's English studios, "Goodbye, Mr. Chips," tells the story of a kindly schoolmaster, starting his career in his twenties, becoming a veritable institution in a big English school and shaping the careers of boys destined to become great men.

'U-Boat 29' Tells Of Undersea War

The whole shocking story of submarine warfare is filmed by Columbia in "U-Boat 29," regarded as one of the most astounding screen achievements of the year! Coming to the Dominion Theatre on Friday, "U-Boat 29" features Conrad Veidt, Valerie Hobson and Sebastian Shaw in a mighty epic of undersea terror and undercover spies plotting charts of doom.

The new film, which was directed by Michael Powell and produced by Irving Asher, producer of that other sensational Columbia production "Clouds Over Europe," presents Veidt as an enemy submarine commander ordered to invade English territory as a spy.

CAPITOL THEATRE

"The Rains Came," an adaptation of Louis Bromfield's enthralling story of life in a small native state, now showing at the Capitol Theatre, brings breathless entertainment in the play of mixed human emotions blown about by the power of the elements.

"The Rains Came" is a story of a small group of people, native Indians and Occidentals, and it is the swift unfolding of the drama of their lives on the exotic stage of India.

Tyrone Power is a young Indian, educated in England and trained in medicine, who has been selected to succeed the Maharanee to the throne of the little state. Myrna Loy is a disturbing influence—not the best—whose presence disrupts the even tenor of life among the colonists.

DOMINION THEATRE

Joe E. Brown and Martha Raye will open the mouths of those who wonder what higher education is all about in Paramount's riotous new college comedy, "$1,000 a Touchdown," now showing at the Dominion Theatre. Starred together for the first time, Joe and Martha undertake to put a broken-down college on its feet by recruiting a handsome football team which attracts a corps of cute co-eds to the school. To cap the capers which fill the film, Martha is inspired to lift the mortgage on the school by betting $1,000 that the team will score against a champ pro team, making it necessary for Joe — he's coach, too—to go out and die or do for dear old Alma Mater. Eric Blore, Susan Hayward, John Hartley and Joyce Mathews are seen in supporting roles.

PLAZA THEATRE

Slight, red-headed and 13 years old, no one would suspect him of being a "heavy." But to Tommy Kelly, the screen's "Tom Sawyer," fell that important role in the juvenile cast of Samuel Goldwyn's "They Shall Have Music," now showing at the Plaza Theatre, which stars Jascha Heifetz, world renowned violinist. It features Andrea Leeds and Joel McCrea in supporting roles.

Many Injured on Liner In Storm-tossed Seas

NEW YORK (AP)—The storm-battered American liner President Harding radioed the United States Line offices here today that 45 passengers and 28 members of the crew had been injured and that Paul Johnson, a cabin waiter, had presumably been lost overboard at the height of a heavy gale.

A United States coastguard cutter this morning reached the President Harding 800 miles from Boston and put medical supplies aboard, presumably by a line shot over the storm-tossed seas.

The Harding wired overnight she was desperately in need of medical supplies for a number of passengers and crew, severely injured as the ship rolled in great combers.

The Harding proceeded on her way and the cutter advised New York it would continue to the assistance of the British freighter Blairberg, wallowing helplessly 160 miles south of St. John's, Newfoundland, with her rudder chains missing.

En route to the President Harding's position, the cutter Hamilton reported intercepting a message from the Blairberg. A second cutter, the Duane, like the Hamilton on neutrality patrol, was also believed rushing to the President Harding and the Blairberg.

The 13,869-ton liner hove to early today about 800 miles from Boston. Coastguard headquarters at Boston reported that injuries suffered aboard the storm-tossed ship included broken legs, broken ankles, broken arms and broken backs. The number of persons injured was not learned.

The message from the President Harding asked for medicines, "splints and fracture supplies," and for a cutter to "remove injured—one seriously burned."

A later message from the Harding stated: "During heavy storms many sustained injuries, crew and passengers. Ten serious. Also No. 9 lifeboat and davit and starboard rail swept away. May have to make Halifax. Heavy seas at present."

Another message from the ship said Henry Heimsoth, engine-room storekeeper, had been operated on for appendicitis at 1.45 p.m. yesterday at the height of a heavy gale.

The operation, performed by the ship's surgeon, Dr. Thomas Sister, assisted by "Dr. and Mrs. Schur of Vienna," was successful.

The President Harding sailed from France October 11. Two days later it rescued 36 crew members of the British freighter Heronspool 300 miles off the Irish coast.

At the time of the rescue the President Harding was proceeding to the aid of the French tanker Emile Miguet, another war victim.

Capt. James E. Roberts is the Harding's master.

Among the passengers on the Ss. President Harding are Mr. and Mrs. B. C. Timberley and their small daughter Barien, formerly of Victoria, who have been living in London for the last three years. Mrs. Timberley was formerly Miss Margaret Philion, daughter of Mrs. C. T. Ward, 1415 Cook Street.

Pioneer B.C. Mariner Dies Suddenly

VANCOUVER (CP) — Captain Neil Gray, 69, prominent British Columbia coast mariner and master of the Union Steamship Company's coastwise steamship Lady Cecelia for 15 years, died suddenly at his home here yesterday.

Captain Gray's ship is in the Gulf Coast service between Vancouver, Sechelt and Powell River. He had been with the company since 1910.

The captain, born in Argyllshire, served in sail and rose from ordinary seaman to second mate between 1889 and 1895. He became chief officer of the steamship Ben Nevis, Clyde Shipping Company, in 1899 and later served on the China coast with the China Navigation Company.

He served on several other Union Steamship boats before being transferred to the Lady Cecelia in 1924.

He is survived by his widow and one daughter, Mrs. R. Neal of Sechelt, a coastal resort 33 miles northwest of Vancouver.

DE GRASSE ARRIVES

NEW YORK (AP)—The French liner de Grasse arrived from Europe this week with 281 passengers, 47 of them Americans. She was the first French passenger ship to reach here since the Ile de France docked September 8, five days after France declared war on Germany.

Among the passengers on the de Grasse were Abbe Ernest Dimnet, French priest, author and lecturer, and C. S. Forester, British author of the Capt. Horatio Hornblower novels.

No Immature Fish Caught at Sooke

NEW WESTMINSTER (CP)—Major J. A. Motherwell, chief supervisor of fisheries for western Canada, yesterday told a Royal Commission here that suggestions immature fish are caught by purse seine nets and fish trap operators at Sooke, were incorrect.

"Jack spring salmon are often taken for immature fish because of their size," Major Motherwell told Mr. Justice Gordon Sloan, chairman of the commission which is investigating purse seine and fish trap operations. "This is wrong, as the jack spring is a three-year-old fish. Also they are caught by trollers, seiners, gillnetters and in fish-traps."

Charles L. Smith, production manager of Edmunds and Walker Limited, Vancouver, wholesale fish dealers, said that preference is given to gillnet fish over those caught in purse seine nets.

He said certain varieties of fish, especially spring salmon, are presumably bruised when brailed from the seine nets to the ship's hold.

Walter Monk, New Westminster fish buyer, estimated the increase in gear used in the Fraser River above the Pattullo Bridge here at about 50 per cent in the past 10 years.

TOO MUCH FISHING GEAR, SAYS WITNESS

NEW WESTMINSTER (CP)—Walter Monk, New Westminster fish buyer, told the royal commission investigating fish traps and purse seine operations in British Columbia waters that the total of all varieties of salmon caught in the Fraser River has decreased by 85 per cent in recent years.

Questioned by Mr. Justice Gordon Sloan, commissioner, Monk said he thought "the excess amount of gear of seiners and gillnetters has contributed towards the depletion."

Earlier at the inquiry sitting he had blamed purse seiners, United States fish traps in Puget Sound, prior to their abolition, and trawlers for the lessening of the fish catch.

The commissioner, quoting from official Dominion fishery department statsitics, said gillnet fishermen had caught by far the largest quantity of fish in the Fraser River area, and that purse seiners accounted for a fractional amount.

At previous commission sittings gill net fishermen charged that operations of purse seines in the river mouth provided a "hazard" to their nets and forced them to fish in "outside" waters.

ATHENIA OWNERS DENY ARMS CHARGE

GLASGOW (CP) — Norman Donaldson of the Donaldson Line, owners of the sunken Athenia, today characterized as "tommyrot and absolute nonsense" an American's affidavit charging the liner carried arms and was to have been outfitted as a raider.

"We gave details of the cargo after the sinking," said Donaldson. "The Athenia, of course, set out when the world was still at peace."

Gustav A. Henderson of Evanston, Ill., a passenger on the Athenia when she was sunk September 3, said in the affidavit furnished yesterday to the United States State Department at Washington, that the chief officer had told him there was "plenty" of guns aboard, destined for Canada, and the ship was to be outfitted as a raider on her return trip.

Djambi Proceeds With Repairs Done

SEATTLE (AP)—Agents for the Dutch motorship Djambi reported today the crew had completed repairs on its disabled steering gear, 1,500 miles west of here in the Pacific, and the vessel was proceeding towards Manila.

A brief message said the repair work by the "substitute crew" was finished late yesterday and the course resumed last night.

WARREN FUNERAL

WINNIPEG (CP) — Funeral services for A. E. Warren, vice-president of the Canadian National Railways in charge of western lines, will be held at St. George's Anglican Church here tomorrow afternoon. Bishop Henry D. Martin of Saskatchewan, a close friend of Mr. Warren for many years here, will conduct the service.

Hitler Thanks Crew for Sinking H.M.S. Royal Oak

By LOUIS P. LOCHNER

BERLIN (AP) — Adolf Hitler today received Commander Prien and his submarine crew, credited with sinking the British battleship Royal Oak in Scapa Flow, island naval base north of Scotland. He awarded Prien Germany's highest war decoration, the grand cross of the iron cross.

Meeting them in his private study, Hitler shook hands with each man and thanked them in the name of the German nation. Present at the meeting was Grand Admiral Erich Raeder, who yesterday presented the men with iron crosses for their Saturday raid.

Hitler said the crew's achievement "strengthened the entire German nation in the imperturbable trust in victory." He described their deed as the "proudest" which a submarine could accomplish.

The crew's arrival by plane from an unnamed port which they reached yesterday followed a high command communique which claimed the French were continuing to retreat from German soil and 10 enemy planes had been shot down in the last two days.

Numerous officers of the navy, army and air force greeted the sea fighters when they landed at the Templehoff airfield. In a brief ceremony, chief of the submarine staff Captain Siems welcomed them and congratulated them on behalf of Grand Admiral Raeder.

"Another glorious leaf has been added to the book registering unforgettable U-boat deeds of the World War," he said. "You proved once again that the unbending will to do is decisive—not the size of the military equipment."

PRESS STATEMENTS

The Nazi press declared German planes and submarines would attempt new attacks on British ships.

The Deutsche Allgemeine Zeitung declared the spirit of Otto Weddingen, a World War submarine hero, animated present-day crews of the undersea boats.

(Weddingen commanded the U-9, which in 1914 sank the British cruisers Aboukir, Hogue and Cressy. He died in March, 1915, when his new command, the 7-29, was rammed by a British warship in the battle of the Orkneys. A submarine flotilla formed in 1935 was named after him.)

"And in this spirit of attack," the newspaper said, "England will be given no rest. . . Exactly as in Poland, the German war leadership knows how to strike upon military objects.

"In the outside world justified doubts already had been expressed as to whether it was permissable to talk about the domination of the seas by Britain.

"The fact that Germany has taken the iniatitive and that the British fleet again and again is suffering heavy losses is creating a deep impression," the newspaper told its readers.

The Morgenpost, comparing the surrender of the German fleet in 1919 with what it called a German "triumph" of 1939, said "history has compensated Germany for one of the crudest injustices inflicted on a nation."

BUTTER INCREASE

The German population was told it had one more reason for rejoicing. Beginning next Monday, the press announced, weekly butter rations will be increased from 80 grams (2.82 ounces) per person to 112 grams (3.95 ounces).

The high command's communique said "numerous prisoners were taken" as advancing German troops occupied positions which the French gave up yesterday between the Moselle River and the Palatinate Forest.

Seven enemy planes, of which two were British, were shot down over German territory by anti-aircraft fire and pursuit planes, the communique said. Three other British planes were reported downed "in an airfight over British territory."

The communique also admitted one German fighting plane had been brought down by anti-aircraft fire during the raid on the British naval base at Scapa Flow yesterday.

The raid, it was added, resulted on a bomb hit on "an older English battleship" (the Iron Duke, which for some time has been used only as a training ship).

Wheat

WINNIPEG (CP) — Lack of any aggressive export demand for Canadian wheat and an indifferent attitude at Chicago gave wheat futures prices a hesitant tone on Winnipeg Grain Exchange today. Quotations fluctuated narrowly and at the close were ½ cent to ⅝ cent down, October at 71⅝B, November 72¼B, December 73⅛A and May 77⅞.

Light selling and hedging depressed values at the start but offerings became scarce later on and were partially absorbed by moderate southern support which came out in connection with spreading operations between Winnipeg and Chicago. Export buyers were not aggressive and overseas sales of Canadian wheat were not expected to exceed 200,000 bushels.

Wheat prices at Chicago dropped ½ cent while Buenos Aires at noon was ⅜ cent lower.

Cash wheat trade was quiet apart from a little mill interest in No. 3 northern and some of the lower grades. Exporters displayed minor interest in barley, oats and rye in the coarse grain pit.

Western Canada farmers delivered 2,132,000 bushels of wheat to country loading points yesterday, compared with deliveries of 2,285,000 bushels for the corresponding day a year ago.

CHICAGO (AP)—Grain prices were under the selling pressure of slow but persistent profit taking throughout most of the session today, losing fractions in all pits.

Absence of any new spectacular war manoeuvres in Europe and the unsettled tone of the securities market resulted in a pause in buying, which has lifted wheat rather sharply so far this week. Reports of substantial export sales of Canadian wheat, estimated in excess of 1,000,000 bushels, in addition to foreign sales of other types of grain and some U.S. wheat and corn attracted only small attention and stimulated little buying.

Metal Prices

MONTREAL—Bar gold 168s. unchanged (equivalent $33.85 on the basis of the dollar, $4.03). Bar silver 22 15/16d, off ⅛d.

NEW YORK—Copper steady, electrolytic spot 12.50.

Tin steady, spot and nearby 55.00, forward 49.25.

Lead steady, spot, New York, 5.50 to 5.55; East St. Louis, 5.35.

Zinc steady, East St. Louis, spot and forward, 6.50.

Only Small Price Increases in Steel

NEW YORK (AP)—Major steel producers seem committed to a policy of restraint regarding possible price rises for the first quarter of 1940, Iron Age said today in its weekly survey.

"While confirmable information as to forthcoming price decisions is not yet obtainable," said the review, "opinion in the trade is that advances, if any, will not exceed $2 or $3 a ton, which steel makers say will not cover their increased costs."

ADMIRAL BLAGROVE LOST ON ROYAL OAK

LONDON (CP) — Rear-Admiral H. E. C. Blagrove, newly-appointed admiral-superintendent of the Chatham dockyard, it was disclosed today, went down with the battleship Royal Oak when she was torpedoed by a German submarine in Scapa Flow last Saturday.

Admiral Blagrove, 52, had been appointed to the Chatham post October 2. He served during the World War on the battleship Queen Elizabeth.

Revised figures issued by the Admiralty showed there were 810 men lost and 424 survivors.

Buying Drive Stalled

NEW YORK (AP)—The latest buying drive in war stocks stalled today as many traders took advantage of the advance to turn their winnings into cash.

Early gains were mostly eliminated or turned into moderate losses in steels, aircrafts, motors, coppers and miscellaneous industrial shares. A few groups plugged onward, including air transportation and building shares.

Off fractions to around 2 on the setback were U.S. Steel, Westinghouse, Chrysler, Douglas, Bethlehem and Du Pont. Holding gains of fractions to about 3 points most of the day were Johns-Manville, U.S. Gypsum, Electric Boat, United Airlines, Eastern Airlines, Cerro de Pasco and Boeing.

Transactions totaled 1,500,000 shares.

In a ragged Canadian division fractional gains were posted for C.P.R. and McIntyre Porcupine. Dome, Lake Shore, Hiram Walker retreated. Dominion 4s moved narrowly.

(By H. A. Humber Ltd.)

Dow Jones averages closed today as follows:

30 industrials 153.54, off 1.02
20 rails 34.53, off 0.48
15 utilities 25.75, off 0.12
Total sales—1,400,000.

Calgary Oils

CALGARY (CP)—Brisk buying sent oils up fractions to 13 points on Calgary Stock Exchange today. Transfers totaled 16,430.

Anglo-Canadian at 1.22 was up 13, while Calmont and Okalta gained 4½ and 4, respectively, at 47½ and 1.39.

NARROW CHANGES

MONTREAL (CP) — Stocks moved in varying directions today as efforts to extend yesterday's broad advance met with considerable profit-taking opposition.

National Steel Car lost one and declines of ⅛ to ¼ came out for Canadian Car, and C.P.R., Algoma Steel, Asbestos, Nickel and Smelters backed up fractionally.

Romans Saw Elephants Perform Tricks

During the past summer a circus man stood before a crowd and said that an elephant would dance the Lambeth Walk. In a moment the event took place. As I watched I was not sure the Lambeth Walk was being done as it should have been, but the elephant swayed from side to side and was "dancing" after a fashion. At the end the big beast "took a bow" before the much-pleased crowd; it almost stood on its head!

Peacock "on duty" at Roman wedding.

Dancing elephants are amusing, but they are not new. A record dating back nearly 2,000 years tells about an elephant which danced in Rome to the order of a negro.

Another elephant pleased crowds when it knelt before them. We are told that this elephant also walked a tightrope! Still other elephants used their trunks to toss spears into the air.

Lions were trained to perform in the arena. We read of some which used to attack bulls and kill them. Then they would chase rabbits and catch them in their mouths. Much to the wonder of the people watching the lions would not crush the rabbit, but would set them down alive.

Romans took great interest in teaching birds to talk. They taught parrots, crows, ravens, magpies and starlings to speak.

One day a young raven flew into a Roman shoemaker's shop. The shoemaker kept it as a pet. The bird soon was able to talk, and was taught to say the names of the emperor, Tiberius, and his two sons. We are told that the raven often went into the city's forum to greet the emperor and his sons.

An amusing story has come down of a man who trained two ravens to speak certain greetings. Octavian and Mark Antony were at war in Egypt at the time.

Octavian came back the victor, and the man showed him one of the ravens. The bird spoke Latin words meaning, "Hail, Caesar the victor!" This pleased the Roman leader so much that he bought the raven for a price of $750 in our money.

A few minutes later the other raven began to talk. This bird shouted, "Hail, Antony the victor!" Octavian was not pleased, but he did not punish the teacher of the ravens.

Peacocks also had an important place in Roman life. They could not be taught to talk, but they were "sacred to Juno," a goddess who was supposed to help women in marriage. A picture of a Roman wedding shows a peacock standing near the persons being married.

HOROSCOPE

Thursday, October 19

Good and evil planetary aspects balance each other in today's horoscope. It is a date for routine affairs in which there should be no departures from the usual. In the morning the judgment may be hasty and untrustworthy. An inclination toward pessimism in regard to world affairs should be sternly overcome. This is a season when hope should be strong despite evil portents.

This is not a lucky day for beginning new friendships with persons of opposite sex. Girls may be severely analyzed and criticized, since the stars encourage men to put a high value upon themselves. The war mania, which places a high value on the ability to fight, may make young men egotistical. The evening should be favorable to intellectual discussions, instead of love protestations.

This is a season when many business tonics will be suggested, but the stars presage an awakening to the importance of making the most of local opportunities. There will be a return to confidence in the effectiveness of co-operative efforts. While lively trade is indicated for the Christmas season it is wise to look ahead to the post-holiday slump and to prepare for it.

Subversive influences will continue to arouse anxiety. Compromises are recommended in all negotiations with employers, because there will be need of close partnership between labor and capital as the winter progresses. Nature will seem to reflect the unrest of men's minds and the winter will be marked by extraordinary storms, floods and heavy snows.

The United States is to be placed in a position of grave potentialities through an unexpected incident of peril. Banking and money problems will be of world concern as foreign efforts to borrow menace American financiers.

Persons whose birthdate it is have the augury of a year of fair luck and few unusual experiences. The greatest uncertainties may concern love affairs; the middle-aged may be very susceptible.

Children born on this day probably will possess strong minds and bodies. Keen in intuition and good judges of character, these Librans are usually successful in their careers.

THIS CURIOUS WORLD

By William Ferguson

ANSWER: The young of wolves, mink, swans and elephants are known respectively as pups, kits, cygnets and calves.

Dorothy Dix's Letter Box

DEAR DOROTHY DIX—Why does a girl take all that a man has, lead him on to believe that she cares for him and then give him the air when he wants to marry her? I have been fooled several times in this way. How can I tell the "true" girl when I meet her?

JAMES.

Answer: Evidently you have fallen among the gold-diggers, son, but henceforth by these tokens shall you know them: Whenever you meet up with a girl whose hand is always in your pocket; who is always trying to make you spend money on her; who hints for presents and asks you to take her to expensive places; who can never go by a restaurant without complaining of being hungry; who has to ride in taxis instead of on a bus and who manages somehow to hold you up at every turn, then by these infallible signs you may know that she is just despoiling you for her own pleasure and that she hasn't the slightest intention of marrying you.

As soon as she has squeezed you dry she will chuck you aside with no more consideration than she would an empty orange rind and pass you up for some other chap who still has his bankroll. On the other hand, one of the first and most unmistakable signs that a girl gives of falling in love with a man is when she begins to be careful of his money. It shows that she is beginning to take a proprietary interest in it and to dream of sharing it.

NEW APPOINTMENTS—J. O. Jones, left, has been appointed supervisor of the eastern division of Kelly, Douglas and Co. Ltd. Mr. Jones joined Kelly, Douglas 20 years ago. Coincidental with his appointment is that of H. J. McMillan, right, to the position of superintendent of British Columbia branches. Mr. McMillan is the son of W. J. McMillan, one-time head of the pioneer wholesale grocery firm which operated under his name. The appointments mark a policy of closer co-ordination of western sales activities.

Troops Will Not Be Invited Here

Alderman W. H. Davies' motion to ask the Department of National Defence train all Canadian troops on Vancouver Island, because of favorable weather and distance from the actual theatre of war, was decisively defeated at yesterday afternoon's meeting of the City Council, with only the sponsor voting in its favor.

Alderman B. J. Gasden, who seconded the motion, explained he had only done so in order that it could come before the council. He said he was not in favor of all its points, adding he thought the matter might be left in the hands of the mayor and the premier.

"It's too big a job for the mayor to handle," Mayor McGavin commented.

Alderman W. Lloyd Morgan said the ocuncil, if it passed the motion, would be more or less sticking its neck out. He thought the motion a little far fetched.

Alderman S. H. Okell said the only thing the island had satisfactory to troop training was the weather. The scheme, he said, was not practical, although he would like personally to see masses of troops here.

Alderman Archie Wills said the men at the head of Canadian military affairs knew what Vancouver Island had and would take advantage of it if necessary.

It was not up to the city to go out of its way to make suggestions to the army and navy authorities, Alderman Ed. Williams said. The council was there to run civic affairs, he said, not to suggest how to run the war. Alderman R. A. C. Dewar said he was of the same opinion.

When the vote was taken Alderman Davies was the only one to raise his hand in its favor, the mayor voting with the other nine aldermen to defeat it.

Dean Addresses Dickens' Group

The Victoria Dickens Fellowship heard at its meeting Monday evening a review by the vice-president, Dean Spencer H. Elliott, of the novel "Tale of Two Cities."

Dean Elliott suggested that readers of Dickens need not feel that they must choose his lighter works in order to dispel the gloom of wartime.

"In such times as these you cannot always laugh yourself out of your sorrows. One ought not to be afraid to choose one's reading according to one's mood," he said.

The speaker told of the writing of the story, "Tale of Two Cities" and said the opinion as to whether he was successful in the field of historical writing—the book was one of two historical novels Dickens wrote—was divided.

HEADS GENERAL FOODS—R. T. Mohan has been elected president and chief executive officer of General Foods Limited, it was announced today. For the past year he has served as vice-president and general manager. In addition to his new responsibilities, Mr. Mohan is managing director of Douglas-Pectin Limited, at Cobourg, and is also a director of Douglas-Pectin Limited, and Grape-Nuts Company Limited, both of London, England.

CLEAN KIDNEYS OF POISONS AND STOP GETTING UP NIGHTS

HEALTHY KIDNEYS MEAN HAPPIER, LONGER LIFE

Thousands of men and women wonder why backache bothers them—why they have to visit the bathroom often at night—why the flow is scanty and sometimes smarts and burns.

Any one of these symptoms means that your kidneys and bladder need attention before these minor symptoms develop into serious trouble.

To purge out waste poisons and acid from kidneys, soothe your irritated bladder and put healthy activity into them, get a 40-cent package of GOLD MEDAL Haarlem Oil Capsules and take as directed.

This harmless, tried and true medicine really works—you should feel better in a few days, as this time-tested effective diuretic and kidney stimulant eliminates excess uric acid from the body which is often the aggravation of joint agony, sciatica and neuritis.

Don't be an EASY MARK and accept a substitute—Ask for Gold Medal Haarlem Oil Capsules—from Haarlem in Holland. GET GOLD MEDAL—the original—the genuine. Look for the Gold Medal on the box. All good things are imitated.

MRS. D. E. THORPE

NANAIMO (CP) — Funeral services were arranged here today for Mrs. Dora Eliza Thorne, 60-year-old native daughter of this city, who died in hospital Monday. Archie Price of Victoria is a brother.

Wardens Examine Fire Question

The fire wardens will inquire further into the possible increase of insurance rates should the city fire department go outside the municipality in case of war emergency.

At the meeting of the city council yesterday afternoon a letter was read from the British Columbia Underwriters' Association advising permission would be given the department to go outside the city limits to fight a fire only if it were caused by actual shelling or bombing. The council turned the letter over to the wardens to ascertain if insurance rates would go up if the department attended to sabotage in an outside municipality.

"I gather from this letter there would have to be actual invasion before we could go to their aid," Alderman Archie Wills, chairman of the fire wardens said. Alderman Ed Williams felt there was more likelihood of a fire from sabotage rather than from actual warfare.

"The melon has been sucked dry," said Mayor McGavin, opposing suggestion of a pooling of fire-fighting resources among Victoria and the outside municipalities without remuneration, as asked by the Civilian Protection Committee. "We aldermen must stand pat on this. The rates for Victoria would be affected, but not the rates in the municipalities we would be helping."

On recommendation of its solicitor, the council denied all liability for the death of W. J. Beecroft, who died some weeks ago after falling into an open hole on View Street, where city employees were working. The matter was referred to the mayor and city solicitor to deal further with the man's widow.

The public works committee will make surveys and reports on the condition of Johnson Street, between Camosun and Fernwood, on suggestion of Alderman R. A. C. Dewar; Caledonia Avenue, between Quadra and Cook, on suggestion of Alderman N. J. Gadsden; and Church Hill, Blanshard Street, on suggestion of Alderman Archie Wills. The aldermen said these pieces of road were badly in need of repairs.

The council passed a vote of thanks to G. M. Irwin on the successful completion of improvements on Pandora Avenue. Alderman Ed Williams, chairman of the public works department, recommended the vote and said the work was most satisfactory.

The council briefly discussed work now being done on View and Broad Streets by the Canadian Pacific Telegraphs, which is laying a cable there. Alderman T. W. C. Hawkins felt the company should have put in the cable before the road was recently repaired, instead of tearing the surface up now.

On the recommendation of the lands and zoning committee, the council sold a lot on the west side of Rosebery Avenue, between Bay and Haultain for $100 and the lot at the southeast corner of Fisgard and Store for $2,500, and decided to place the lot at the rear of the Douglas Hotel under the jurisdiction of the city lands department, so it would be reserved for city officials and not used by unauthorized persons.

Recommendation of the public works committee that the city purchase from H. Mattin 130 cedar logs for work at Clover Point at a cost of $294.55, the lowest tender, and that the city engineer be instructed to put in a storm sewer on Pemberton Road, north from Rockland to Angus, for 684 feet at a cost of $481 were approved by the council.

Duncan Kennedy, city building inspector, who attended the recent convention of building inspectors at Oakland, turned in a full report to the council, which thanked him for his work. He said in his report Victoria lost out by a few votes to Spokane as next year's convention city.

The council stood in silent tribute for a minute to the memory of James McIndoo, for 31 years an employee in the city engineer's department.

Alderman R. A. C. Dewar moved and Alderman B. J. Gadsden seconded the resolution of sympathy to the family.

Aldermen Wills and Worthington were named civic delegates to the B.C. Aviation Council meeting in the City Hall next Thursday afternoon.

The council approved the recommendation of the city assessor and solicitor that the new Anglican Sunday school at the corner of Medina and Niagara Streets be exempt from taxation.

Muriel Shepherd, in a letter, objected to the removal of chestnut trees, planted 40 years ago by her father, from Chestnut Street, and her request will be further examined by the public works committee.

Tenders for policemen's clothing and a new gate for the police station elevator were opened and referred to the police commission with power to act.

Mrs. Annie Trotter, by letter, thanked the council for best wishes and flowers to her mother, Mrs. Ann Duke, on the occasion of the latter's 100th birthday earlier this month.

HOLD-UP APPEAL DISMISSED

The Court of Appeal yesterday dismissed the appeal of Louis Albert Minichiello from conviction by Mr. Justice Fisher on a charge of attempted armed hold-up in a West End store in Vancouver, in a judgment prepared by Mr. Justice M. A. Macdonald and handed down by Mr. Justice W. G. McQuarrie. Minichiello was sentenced to three years.

The appeal was based on lack of identification on the part of Marshall, the storekeeper who ultimately drove Minichiello out of his store when he ran into living quarters at the rear and got his own gun.

The Court of Appeal held the conviction was sound and there was ample evidence of identification by Marshall not only when he saw the man in the store but when he picked him out of a line-up at police headquarters and chose his picture from a volume of police photographs shown him.

Mr. Justice McQuarrie and Mr. Justice C. H. O'Halloran concurred in the judgment.

CBC Policy in Hands of Governors

OTTAWA (CP) — The board of governors of Canadian Broadcasting Corporation today discussed with Hon. C. D. Howe, Transport Minister, wartime censorship regulations and other matters.

At the conclusion of the meeting, L. W. Brockington, board chairman, issued the following statement:

"Censorship regulations and some other wartime restrictions have been imposed upon the Canadian Broadcasting Corporation as a result of war conditions.

"These have now been crystallized. The board of governors has been today officially advised by the Minister of Transport that it is the wish of the government that hereafter the board of governors of the CBC shall continue to exercise its statutory powers and duties under the Broadcasting Act, subject to essential wartime restrictions as they may be defined by the government or the board of censorship from time to time.

"The governors of the CBC will continue in control of broadcasting developments and radio policy."

WAKE UP YOUR LIVER BILE—

And You'll Jump Out of Bed in the Morning Rarin' to Go

The liver should pour out two pounds of liquid bile into your bowels daily. If this bile is not flowing freely, your food doesn't digest. It just decays in the bowels. Gas bloats up your stomach. You get constipated. Harmful poisons go into the body, and you feel sour, sunk and the world looks punk.

A mere bowel movement doesn't always get at the cause. You need something that works on the liver as well. It takes those good, old Carter's Little Liver Pills to get these two pounds of bile flowing freely and make you feel "up and up". Harmless and gentle, they make the bile flow freely. They do the work of calomel but have no calomel or mercury in them. Ask for Carter's Little Liver Pills by name! Stubbornly refuse anything else. 25c.
